INTRODUCTION

Dear Prospective Student,

Welcome to Nashville Academy of Reflexology. Thank you for considering our academy as your school to gain the knowledge, skills, and quality of training that will prepare you to be successful in the profession of Reflexology. It is a privilege to offer serious students the opportunity to become certified in a profession of touch that is both honorable and worthy in the complementary alternative health field. Our commitment to you at Nashville Academy of Reflexology is to present a complete and comprehensive certification program that will provide you with a solid foundation of science, a finely tuned ability and sensitivity in the art of applied reflexology, a holistic understanding of how the body returns to balance, and business preparation for beginning a new career.

Nashville Academy of Reflexology (NAR) offers a comprehensive 200-hour certification program to prepare the aspiring student to become a qualified professional in the health field of Reflexology. We believe preparation for a hands-on profession is best learned by hands-on instruction. For this reason, the curriculum of this certification program consists of 125 hours of hands-on instruction and training in the classroom and 75 hours of intern clinic experience and supervised practicum with the instructors. We limit our classes to a minimum of 6 and a maximum of 8 students for careful hands-on monitoring. We are committed to providing students expert guidance and counseling as they navigate their way through their education and career opportunities with our caring, experienced staff.

Subjects you will study include Reflexology History, Western Theory and Technique based on Zones and Body System Reflex Points; Supervised Clinic for Practicum; Anatomy, Physiology, & Pathology including Foot Care, Hygiene, and Self-Care; Tennessee Reflexology Law & Ethics, Business Practices & Marketing.

Upon satisfactory completion of the full course of study, practicum, evaluations and exams, graduates will be awarded a certificate from Nashville Academy of Reflexology certifying that they have satisfactorily completed written and practical exams and met all the requirements for the Nashville Academy of Reflexology Certification Program, a 200-hour program in the health profession of foot and hand reflexology. A graduate of Nashville Academy of Reflexology will be qualified to apply with the State of Tennessee Reflexology Practitioners Registry to become a Registered Certified Reflexologist (RCR).

Nashville Academy of Reflexology holds to the values and professional standards set forth by the American Reflexology Certification Board (ARCB), an independent national certification board recognizing highly qualified reflexologists. The student completing our program will be trained in both the skills and knowledge necessary to prepare for taking the ARCB exam. Although this exam is not required by the State of Tennessee, it sets our educational standards for the student who wishes to attain this benchmark of excellence.

This is an exciting time for complementary, alternative, and integrative health in the United States. Awareness is growing among the general populace and people are seeking out natural therapies. Reflexology can serve as an entry point for people beginning to balance their health and a maintenance plan for continuing wellness. Reflexology plays an important role in a holistic program and interfaces well with other health modalities. Whether you take this profession into nursing, care giving, spas, wellness centers, clinics, doctor's offices, health clubs, or into private practice, you will enrich and help the lives of many.

We are honored you are considering our school and look forward to working with you in the near future.

Respectfully,

Gail (Gaia) Tossing, RCR, LMT, Owner

Carol Ann Baily, Ed.D., Director

PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES

The purpose of Nashville Academy of Reflexology is to develop and certify highly qualified professionals in the art and science of reflexology.

Nashville Academy of Reflexology is dedicated to the following objectives:

- Provide an education for each student that meets, or exceeds, the highest state and national standards in the profession of Reflexology.
- Provide instructors who are highly qualified and experienced in their field of instruction with proven success rates in all aspects of teaching and relating the curriculum material to students.
- Provide an inspiring learning atmosphere that recognizes the individual needs of the student.
- Present a holistic approach to the art of reflexology and perceptive caring touch, balanced with a solid foundation of knowledge in the science of the body and its interconnected parts.
- Promote a greater awareness of the benefits of reflexology and respect for the profession in the community.
- Uphold and model the rules, standards, and code of ethics established by the Tennessee Reflexology Registry and the American Reflexology Certification Board.

REFLEXOLOGY AS A PROFESSION

Reflexology is a holistic art and science that has been practiced as a health enhancing modality in different forms all over the world since antiquity. Reflexology is now recognized as a career in the natural health field that offers a non-invasive, integrative healing alternative and is at the forefront of alternative therapies.

Reflexology is based on the principle that there are reflex points in the hands and feet that relate to all the organs and parts of the body. Specific stimulation with pressure on these points is used to help the body maintain homeostasis, improve circulation, and relieve stress. In order to effectively access these reflex points, the practice of Reflexology involves using finger and thumb techniques that are unique to its field and are different than foot or hand massage. In Western culture, reflexologists use the zonal theory to look at the body holistically. Ten longitudinal zones that start with the head and end in the tips of the fingers and toes are a guide to a map of the body mirrored onto the feet and hands. When areas of the feet or hands are tender, trained Reflexologists apply their skills to work out this tenderness and stimulate nerve impulses, thereby helping the whole body to normalize. A Professional Reflexologist never diagnoses or prescribes, but uses the reflexology techniques to complement other health and wellness care clients are doing for themselves. Reflexology can also be used as a way to keep the body systems tuned up and operating at their peak performance, and relieving stress that can be a precursor to disease.

As a health practice, Reflexology is continuing to grow and gain popularity in the United States, earning its place as an effective alternative modality. Many states have instituted a professional registry with certification requirements and rules in response to the public's interest in receiving quality reflexology. The state of Tennessee now requires completion of an approved reflexology certification program of a minimum of 200 hours to become a Registered Certified Reflexologist. The American Commission for Accreditation of Reflexology Education and Training (ACARET) has now set the national standard for professional reflexology training at a minimum of 300 hours. The American Reflexology Certification Board (ARCB) offers national certification to candidates who meet requirements for education, hands-on practice and who pass a certification exam. To practice as a reflexologist in another state, you should check with that state's Department of Health Related Boards for their rules and regulations. Some states regulate reflexology and some do not. The Reflexology Association of America (RAA) provides a summary of state laws.

There are many varied opportunities to work in the field of Reflexology part or full time. You may choose to operate a private practice in your home or office, travel to clients' homes, work in health clubs, chiropractors' or doctors' offices, salons or spas, senior centers, or onsite at businesses. Upon completion of the NAR Professional Reflexology Certification Program, students will be prepared to be employed as a Reflexologist.

You can expect reflexology salaries to correspond closely to massage therapist salaries in the area where you plan to practice. Of course, the field offers a lot of scheduling flexibility, and the number of hours you work per week will impact your income. Salaries will also vary based on your geographic location, employer type and experience level.

According to the current U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics Occupational Outlook Handbook, the median national annual salary for massage therapists is $43,620. In the metropolitan Nashville area and surrounding counties, the median salary is $44,120. Actual salaries may vary greatly based on specialization within the field, location, years of experience and a variety of other factors. People working part-time may earn up to $30,500.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH AND STUDENT CLINIC

A total of 75 hours of clinic procedures and supervised practicum are required within the 200-hour certification program. Nashville Academy of Reflexology will set hours for students to practice their reflexology skills supervised by an instructor in the Student Clinic, which will be open to the general public. NAR recommends that students take an authorized First Aid/CPR/AED class prior to beginning the student practicum. In addition to the supervised practicum in the teaching location, students may also participate in community outreach service projects as part of their practicum requirement which may include, but are not limited to, reflexology for health fairs, nursing homes, hospitals, senior centers, etc. Hours for the supervised practicum are listed within each class calendar on pages 17 and 18 of the catalog. Hours in community outreach will be arranged by the school to be performed by the students and supervised by an instructor at health fairs, senior centers and other events. Student practicum hours will be supervised by an instructor and/or a licensed health professional and will be documented by students for evaluation by the reflexology instructor. Procedures for the safety of both our students and clients are strictly maintained during the clinics.

Documentation of the supervised practicum hours performed in the Student Clinic and during Community Outreach events must be turned into the instructor and evaluated for a grade in the supervised practicum requirement. The student will receive no monetary compensation for these hours that are considered part of the certification process and service to the community.

PAYMENT OF FEES

All tuition must be paid prior to starting classes. The Nashville Academy of Reflexology has been approved for Veterans Training. If you are eligible for Veterans Educational Benefits, the Director will work with you to obtain this funding. NAR permits students seeking VA educational benefits to attend or participate in the course of education during the period beginning on the date on which the individual provides to the educational institution a certificate of eligibility for entitlement to educational assistance under chapter 31 or 33 (a “certificate of eligibility” can also include a “Statement of Benefits” obtained from the Department of Veterans Affairs’ (VA) website – eBenefits, or a VAF 28-1905 form for chapter 31 authorization purposes) and ending on the earlier of the following dates: 1. The date on which payment from VA is made to the institution. 2. 90 days after the date the institution certified tuition and fees following the receipt of the certificate of eligibility. • NAR will not impose any penalty, including the assessment of late fees, the denial of access to classes, libraries, or other institutional facilities, or the requirement that a covered individual borrow additional funds, on any covered individual because of the individual’s inability to meet his or her financial obligations to the institution due to the delayed disbursement funding from VA under chapter 31 or 33.

If you are eligible for Vocational Rehabilitation educational funding or SNAP educational funding, contact your local program staff to apply for that funding. These programs take time to secure, so please begin early to request funding from the Vocational Rehabilitation or SNAP office in your county.

Scholarships and other educational funding: NAR has developed contacts with several different sources for scholarships and educational funding grants. If you need such funding to be able to enroll in our professional reflexology certification program, please contact the Director for the information about the currently available funds for our students. These also take some time, as much as 3 months, to process the applications in advance of the first day of class. So please do not delay.

REFUND AND CANCELLATION POLICY

ADULT FIRST AID/CPR

NAR strongly recommends that our students become certified in First Aid and CPR while preparing to become Registered Certified Reflexologists. The skills learned within the First Aid/CPR/AED course are valuable for reflexologists who may have clients with a health incident during clinic sessions. We suggest that our students seek out a comprehensive First Aid/CPRAED course to take, such as those offered through the American Red Cross or the American Heart Association before the student practicum clinics begin. If a First Aid/CPR/AED class is offered as a Continuing Education course, our students may take that course. Provide documentation of which ever class you take for your file.

PROFESSIONAL REFLEXOLOGY CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

ORIENTATION -- 2 hours

NAR provides an orientation to the school, its policies, and services.

101 Basic Reflexology – 63 hours

Lecture/Demonstration 30 hours, Lab 33 hours

This course provides a comprehensive study of reflexology, its history and theory, zones and the body reflex areas as mapped onto the feet and hands. Different schools of thought on reflexology are discussed from a holistic viewpoint within the scope of practice of a certified reflexologist. Included in this course are sensory palpitation and assessment of the feet and hands for deposits on body system reflex areas and reading of the feet for signs of stress, reflexology application terms, the anatomy systems as reflected in zones on the feet and hands, various reflexology techniques from firm to light touch (including, but not limited to, thumb and finger walking, point holding, rocking on a point, energy balancing, and relaxation techniques), foot and hand problems and care, effects and benefits of reflexology, understanding stress and relaxation responses, indications and contraindications for applying reflexology, hygiene and hydrotherapy cleansing for the feet, use of ergonomic reflexology equipment and supplies, body mechanics, and self-care for the practitioner. Students will be given the opportunity to explore circular techniques for addressing targeted areas such as the craniosacral foot reflexes, bilateral techniques for simultaneous stimulation, as well as applied aromatherapy for the reflex areas and hot stone applications often used in spas. In preparation to perform practicums, students will be taught how to use client intake forms and document sessions in detail with clinical charting. During Lab times of class, different lengths of typical reflexology session routines are learned for both hands and feet for students to implement in Student Intern Clinic. Reflexology sessions appropriate for healthcare offices and for salons or spas are identified and differentiated. Students complete both a comprehensive written exam and skill assessment exam, as well as multiple quizzes.

102 Anatomy, Physiology & Pathology – 48 hours

Lecture 48 hours

This course provides aspiring reflexologists what they need to know about human physiology, anatomy, and the systems, functions, and common dysfunctions or pathologies of the human body, in order to practice knowledgeably, safely, and professionally within their scope of practice. The course lays a foundation in correlating the body systems and functions with an understanding of the reflexology charts and zones for the feet and hands. In-depth study will be given to anatomy of the foot and hand, lower leg and forearm, its structures and functionalities, anatomical foot/hand terminology, and pathologies related to the lower extremities of the body.

103 Tennessee Reflexology Law & Ethics – 3 hours

Lecture/Discussion 3 hours

This course presents the Laws and Regulations pertaining to the legal practice of Reflexology in the State of Tennessee. Students will also discuss the national standards for ethics set forth by the Reflexology Association of America and the American Reflexology Certification Board. The application process for becoming a Registered Certified Reflexologist in Tennessee and a comparison of regulations in other states will be examined.

104 Clinic Procedures & Supervised Practicum – 75 hours

Students gain hands-on experience in a clinic setting with supervision by instructors and licensed or registered health professionals. Students are guided in taking appointments, greeting the public, making client notes, and applying appropriate reflexology for the general public who visit the clinic for reflexology sessions and, perhaps, also at community outreach events. Students may participate in supervised community outreach service projects as part of their practicum requirement, which may include, but is not limited to, reflexology for health fairs, nursing homes, hospitals, senior centers, etc. The students' documentations of all supervised practicum sessions are turned in to Nashville Academy of Reflexology for evaluation. Students receive no monetary compensation for these logged practicums as these hours are considered part of their required training for certification.

105 Business Practices & Marketing – 9 hours

Lecture 9 hours

The purpose of the course is to prepare the student for success after graduation. This course will cover good business practices, communications, planning, and guidance on setting up and operating a reflexology practice in many different models, whether working as a business owner, independent subcontractor, or employee. Marketing strategies will be explored including print advertising and internet.

SCHEDULE OF CLASSES

Evening Schedule

Although the 200-hour class could take as long as 8 months on some schedules, NAR will offer this class on an accelerated Evening Schedule in 2023. This class will meet Monday and Tuesday evenings from 6:00 – 10:00 pm. On this schedule, even with holiday breaks, the 200-hour reflexology certification program can be completed in just over six months. Consult the details calendar for this schedule for 2023 on page 17 of this catalog and on the Calendar page on the website.

Weekend Schedule

Students who work full-time during the week and those who need to travel to Nashville for NAR's reflexology certification program may prefer the Weekend Schedule. If the weekend class were offered only one weekend a month, it could take as long as 13 and a half months to complete. In 2023 NAR will offer the weekend schedule class in on an accelerated schedule, meeting two weekends each month for six and a half months. Classes meet from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. There is a one-hour lunch break during each class day. For the detailed calendar for this schedule in 2023, see page 18 in this catalog or the Calendar page on the website.

SCHOOL POLICIES

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students are expected to be present at scheduled class times as outlined in the Calendar. Students may also be requested to help the instructor put away the tables and chairs after the class. Classroom attendance is required for the 125 hours of classroom instruction. In addition, students must also complete 75 hours of Clinic Procedures & Supervised Practicum.

Students should request an excused absence for illness, other personal issues, etc. Unexcused absences will count against students in the participation portion of the grade for each course. Students who miss more than 20 hours of classes may be dismissed for unsatisfactory attendance unless the Director approves the extenuating circumstances. Students will be expected to make up the work missed by the next class.

If a student has been expelled for lack of attendance, that student may be readmitted only after meeting with the Director and providing an explanation of the reasons for missing classes.

TARDINESS POLICY

Tardiness poses a problem for all the students and teachers because the class either cannot begin on time or the tardy student misses out on important class time. Tardiness for clinic and practicum events also is difficult because students have clients who have made appointments for a reflexology session. Therefore, time of tardiness will also contribute to the hours of absence and will count against the participation portion of the course grade. If unexcused tardiness and absences should total more than 20 hours, students may be dismissed for unsatisfactory attendance unless the Director approves the extenuating circumstances.

COMMUNICATION POLICY

NAR expects that students will remain in communication via email, text messaging, and voicemail at all times during the program. Changes in the schedule due to weather or other situations or even reminders of deadlines are best communicated via email, text message, or phone. Students should check these devices frequently so they do not miss important messages. Students must be able to receive communication by phone. Students should make sure that their voicemail box is not full and can receive messages at all times. Students who cannot attend classes or clinics must text or call instructors and the director to inform them of the absence and its reason.

PROGRESS REPORTS

Nashville Academy of Reflexology will provide written progress reports for each course at the end of each course after the completion of written exams and practical demonstration of skills.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS

Students must have a 2.0 GPA for both the classroom instruction and the supervised practicum. They need to make up work missed in the classroom and in the practice. They must provide the documentation of the number of logged clinic sessions they have completed and the notes from each clinic session.

ACADEMIC PROBATION

Students may be placed on Academic Probation if their grades for one class or a combination of classes fall below a C average (2.0 GPA). A student placed on academic probation will be notified in writing and required to meet with the Director about the probation. A copy of the notification letter and the meeting notes will be placed in the student's permanent file. A student may re-take the exams and have the probation lifted if they successfully improve the grade.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Students must complete all 125 hours of classroom instruction and laboratory experiences, pass all final exams, pay all tuition in full, and comply with all school policies. In addition, students must complete 75 hours of clinic procedures and supervised practicum as described in the course description and submit the documentation of the practicum sessions to receive the Certificate of Completion.

CODE OF CONDUCT

NAR expects students to behave in the mature and professional manner that they will need in their career in Reflexology. If students become disruptive in class or misuse email or other communications during the program, they may be subject to suspension or expulsion from the program.

NAR expects students to maintain their studies at their current class level.

NAR expects that students shall not attend classes under the influence of alcohol or any illegal substances.

NAR expects that students shall not commit academic misconduct such as cheating, falsification of time records and/or misrepresentation of required homework assignments.

Failure to adhere to the Code of Conduct above may constitute grounds of suspension or expulsion. Reinstatement following expulsion will be at the discretion of the Director, following a private meeting with the student.

SCHOOL SERVICES

STUDENT ADVISING

The faculty and the Director of Nashville Academy of Reflexology are available to advise students upon request. Although staff members will offer counseling of a general nature, if they feel that a student requires more in-depth counseling of a personal nature, they will refer students to services in the community.

PLACEMENT ASSISTANCE

Nashville Academy of Reflexology will provide recommendations and assist students in finding positions, but does not guarantee placement in jobs following graduation. NAR will continue to notify graduates of career opportunities when they occur.

STUDENT RECORDS

Nashville Academy of Reflexology will maintain all student records permanently on file. Any student wishing to see his/her personal records may request a time with the Director. Any person wishing a copy of his/her record must notify the school in writing and pay a $1 charge per page copied. All student records are confidential and safeguarded to protect the privacy of the personal information.

STUDENT GRIEVANCE POLICY

Any student who has a grievance or complaint about a staff member or a fellow student may report the problem in person to the Director of Nashville Academy of Reflexology, Dr. Carol Ann Baily, 615-934-1034, or in writing to the Nashville Academy of Reflexology, PO Box 40193, Nashville, TN 37204.
