

Michael, The Goat - The Greatest of All Time

Named in Honor of a young man, The Goat, who is The Greatest All of Important Things.

Vin Scully's ability to weave compelling stories into his broadcasts is one of many reasons he's considered the greatest baseball play-by-play announcer of all-time. Who's on your list of Greats? Muhammad Ali, Michael Jordan, Tom Brady, Michael Phelps, Jonathan Weid. All. GOATS.

Michael is Great at Baseball, Golf, Bowling. He's a Great Buddy, All around Great Helper. You don't have to ask twice; he shows up even before you ask for help.

To be the Greatest Brother of a special needs child requires patience and understanding, to create an opportunity for their sibling to lead the best life they can possibly live. Michael is the Greatest Brother. The GOAT

Birthday: January 28

Goats are also know as a billy goat, kid. They are frisky, lively, intelligent, inquisitive, and curious. They are agile and known for their ability to climb anything, including trees. They can balance in precarious places. Goats explore anything new or unfamiliar in their surroundings. Goats are able to form bonds with other goats, a herd, or they will follow humans around just the same.

"Haven't you found that one of the best ways children learn is from the example of the grownups they love? When children see that you wonder about the world around you ... that you ask questions ...that you notice things and look carefully, then they'll want to be curious about the world around them, too." Fred Rogers

"There's something unique about being a member of a family that really needs you in order to function well. One of the deepest longings a person can have is to feel needed and essential." Fred Rogers
