

Truth for Today

There is something about the cries of the righteous that draws God's attention. I know there is so much going on in the world right now and a lot of it is not good. That's why today I feel strongly led to speak His truth and life over you.

First off, let me ask you a question. Are you one of His righteous ones? If your answer is yes, and Jesus is your Lord and Savior, you qualify as one of His righteous ones.

God's word is truth, and He does not divert from His truth. When He says, "when the righteous cry for help, I hear, and rescue them from all their troubles" (Psalm 34:17), He means it.

God has promised you His presence will go with you (Exodus 33:14). God has promised you, that He will not fail you or forsake you (Deuteronomy 31:8). This means whatever is happening in your life, or whatever is happening in the world or whatever you are facing, His presence is with you and He will not fail you! You can totally depend on Him.

You can walk in the truth regarding His multiple promises to you because you meet the qualifications! They are not mere words written in some book, they are truth and always bring life. To those who qualify, each time you seek Him, He promises to not only answer you, but to deliver you from all your fears (Psalm 34:4).

He promises that those who love Him, He will deliver. He promises He will protect those who know His name. If you know Him, this means you....When you call to Him, He will answer, He will be with you, He will rescue you and honor you!!!! (Psalm 91:14-16).

By doing this, you will become stouthearted in those areas where you are teetering with unbelief. Speak to your heart! Refuse anything that does not line up with His Word. Declare that only His truth resides in your heart. Declare His truth overrides any doubt or fear!

My friend, the Lord is near to you. He is near to all who call on Him and this includes you! He hears you. He sees you and He will save you from you (Psalm 145: 18-19). After all, the Lord is near to the brokenhearted, and saves the crushed in spirit. Even though many are the afflictions of the righteous, the Lord rescues them from them all (Psalm 34:17-19), and He means exactly what He says!
