

Thank you for helping with out with my vertigo. It must have been a sight to see me laying on a vendor table and you moving me around to adjust the crystals in my ears. I wish I had a picture!

I can't tell you how happy I am that you diagnosed my condition and that my condition was not a stroke as I had been told by a Kansas City physician.

Eugene Malcolm

(Eugene was a vendor at a meeting Dr. Sanders attended. When he found out what Dr. Sanders' specialty was, Eugene told Dr. Sanders about the problem he was having with vertigo. Based on the type of vertigo he described, Dr. Sanders proceeded to check Eugene for BPPV by laying him down on a table in the vendor room. When this was positive, Dr. Sanders performed an Epley maneuver on him, immediately curing his vertigo).
