*Helping people with life challenges through outreach,
and interactions with animals and nature.*

July 6, 2020

Dear Friends,

We need your help, and hope you will consider a sponsorship of part of our facility. This sponsorship will give you or your business visibility, and the ability to honor a loved one, if you choose.

Each sponsorship comes with signage in the area sponsored, on our web site, and on our sponsor wall; and a sponsor certificate and photo.

Every sponsorship helps us deliver food and supplies to the needy, or teach needed skills to people with life challenges. All can lead to increased self-care, improved anger management and critical thinking skills, greater happiness, and better physical fitness. Your sponsorship creates an opportunity to make a lasting difference in the life of a person with unique challenges. We help hundreds of people each month, and your sponsorship signage will be seen by all. All sponsorships are tax-deductible according to applicable laws.

Please review the following opportunities with your friends, family, and clients, and email lisa@colbysarmy.org with your:

1. Name
2. Business name (if applicable)
3. Email address
4. Area or item you wish to sponsor
5. Full or partial sponsorship
6. In honor or memory of text

We so appreciate your consideration,

Lisa Wysocky, executive director
Colby's Army, Inc., lisa@colbysarmy.org

If you have been to our learning center, you know we have a unique facility. The property was once owned by Grand Ole Opry member Ray Pillow, who sold it to Lee Greenwood. In 1974, Mr. Greenwood built the 53' x 86' barn we now occupy. Since then, the property has been owned by members of Confederate Railroad. Most recently, it has had the addition of Western sets (such as a jail and a saloon), and a dance floor. We also have one mile of hiking trails, and a waterfall. In addition, our programs have won local, regional, national, and international awards. Learn more at ColbysArmy.org.

If you are interested, but uncertain about what to sponsor, please contact us, or schedule a day and time for a tour. We'd love to see you! Each sponsorship is also available for a half-sponsorship at 50% of the listed fee.
