

2016 Concho Valley Wounded Veteran shoot

I would like to thank everyone who helped make the shoot a success. I had seven people lined up to help run off the shoot. Thank goodness that my wife and daughter did not let me down. The other five couldn't make it for one reason or another. All had good reasons for not being there but we were in a serious bind. We were saved by some wonderful ladies who came to watch and volunteered to help. You ladies are special. I called for shooters to volunteers to help replace the clays and over half of the shooters answered the call in some way. It took only approximately 8 minutes to score and replace the clays between relays. Thank you so much to all of you who helped. We are still learning and trying to improve our shoot every year. I am satisfied with the range and format and won't make any changes there. I have been thinking of ways to grow our sport which seems to be shrinking. I really think that we are having too many shoots and this is diminishing our participants. I can't do much except to cancel the four 1,000 yard spring shoots that I had planned for next year. I plan to open my range for practice once a month instead. The Concho Valley Wounded Veterans would like to thank the shooters who donated their entry fee rather than asking for a refund when they could not attend.

The weather on Friday for the 1000 yd. was very tough. Cold, high shifting head winds, and a little rain sums up the day. As always the conditions did not bother everyone. Congratulations to these shooters.

The results for this year's 1,000 yard gong shoot are as follows:

- 1st Joe Duke 340 – won sudden death shoot off
- 2nd Danny Barringer 340
