

Keep on Trusting

I love how God does stuff...and when we pray "Your kingdom come, Your will be done," things are bound to happen.

I really had no idea what direction to go for today and just jotted down a few passages that ran through my mind. That's when I saw the direction for today's message. I have to tell you, I busted out laughing when I saw His direction for today. Why? Because today's message is all about trusting Him as His kingdom comes, and His will is done in our lives.

Trust is the belief that someone or something is reliable, good, honest, effective, etc. Trust is multifaceted. We cannot trust someone we don't know, and getting to know Him is a big part of learning to trust Him. Trust in God is a life long process for us all.

Our primary reliance should be on God Himself. Even if things happen that we don't understand, we can trust in God's nature, power and above all in His love for us. God knows what He is doing. God knows what is best for you. God sees the end results that you can't.

We have to trust in Jesus Christ, then we have to trust in His teachings, and then that we can be led by the Holy Spirit! To trust that the Lord knows what He is doing with you and that He will accomplish things for your eternal good (even though you cannot understand how He can possibly do it) can be challenging.

"As for God, his way is perfect: The LORD's word is flawless; he shields all who take refuge in him" (Psalm 18:30).

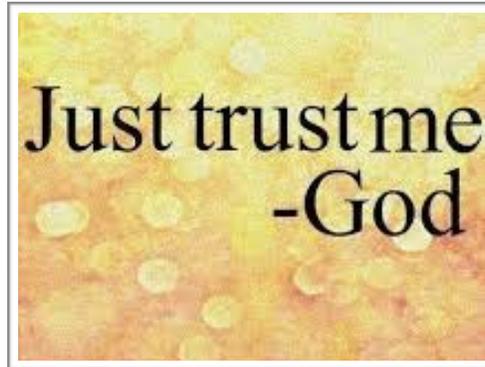

Trusting in God is one of the hardest things to do as a Christian, but the good news is we can trust in Him through all things when we commit situations to Him because He will bring them to pass, "Commit thy way unto the Lord: trust also in Him: He shall bring it to pass" (Psalm 37:3).

God is making something beautiful of your life, but you need to trust in Him to do it. If you don't believe that God will do much for you...then guess what...you won't see what He is really doing for you.

"And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, has not forsaken them that seek thee" (Psalm 9:10). He may not answer your prayer right away. He may not answer your prayers the way you want, but beloved, you still must believe and trust Him to do what is best.

Keep on trusting regardless of what is going on around you, even if things seem hopeless. Friends, you will find Him faithful with every step you take. He has good plans for your life.

My prayer is that you will never doubt His love or goodness to you.

Heavenly Father,

You have said that the one who trusts in man and depends on the arm of flesh for his strength is cursed. Father forgive me for the ways that I have trusted in others or my own strength instead of trusting You. Teach me to trust in You and in Your unfinished work in my life. Teach me to trust in you, so my trust in You is wholehearted. Thank You for personally looking over my life by Your goodness, mercy and love.

Gina Cobb

gahf@gatheringathisfeet.org