NEXT ASSOCIATION BOARD MEETINGS

A special meeting of the Crestwood Association Board will be held on Monday, November 7, 2016. At this meeting, a nominating committee for 2017 officers will be selected, a representative from Preservation Tree Services will discuss topics of interest to Crestwood residents such as toppling and splitting trees, and the Board will vote on proposed processes for addressing zoning changes and variances. (See insert.)

The next regular meeting of the Crestwood Association Board will be held at the on Monday, December 5, 2016. District 7 Councilmember Dennis Shingleton will attend and proposed bylaw changes (see insert) will be voted on by the Board. Both meetings will held at Central Christian Church, 3205 Hamilton Ave, and will begin at 7:00 PM.

Neighbor Notes

Dear Crestwood Neighbors,

As a neighborhood, we're finishing the year off with a bang. In addition to Halloween in the Park before Dark, we're updating bylaws, considering processes to keep our neighborhood thriving, completing projects that help make Crestwood an even more appealing place to live, hearing presentations on key issues for the neighborhood (such as flood control/storm water runoff, see article in this edition); and spending time together at some great events. We've been so busy we're adding an additional board meeting to fit it all in! The proverbial "cherry on the top" will be a visit by District 7 Councilman Dennis Shingleton scheduled for the December 5th Board meeting.

Lynnette Kile is again expertly leading a group of fabulous volunteers in putting on Halloween in the Park Before Dark – a ghoulish, I mean, cool mix of costumes, snacks, a bounce house and other fiendishly fun activities for kids of all ages and their furry friends as well! The fun begins at 4:30 and ends at 6:00 PM, on Monday, October 31st in Crestwood Park. Volunteers are crucial to making the event a success each year, so please let us know if you can help in any way. You can volunteer by selecting "Contact Us" on the Crestwood web page (www.crestwoodfw.org) and noting your contact information and interest.

In this edition of the newsletter, you'll also have the chance to review a proposed process to handle rezoning and variance requests in a timely manner (although time to respond is usually very short), focused on items of greatest concern and enabling as much neighbor input and participation as time permits. At a time when our neighborhood is experiencing so much development, it's important to have a plan in place for addressing an increasing number of such requests. However, the real decision-maker is you. Therefore, the proposed process will be put to a vote at a special board meeting on Monday, November 7th. Also at the November meeting, we will choose members to the nominating committee that will develop a slate of proposed Association officers for 2017. It's an important meeting, so I hope to see you there!

At our December board meeting, we'll welcome our own District 7 Council member, Dennis Shingleton. The purpose for inviting Councilman Shingleton is to foster open communication regarding our goals, concerns and thoughts on things impacting our great neighborhood. To help ensure a more productive exchange, I'd like to ask you to submit in advance of the meeting your questions, concerns and thoughts to me or via the Crestwood web page or another Association board member. Of course, you can also just bring those questions and thoughts to the December meeting. Councilman Shingleton's visit is an important opportunity for our neighborhood to be heard, so let's show him Crestwood cares by showing up! As a bonus, there will be some holiday snacks/cheer provided beginning at 6:30 PM, so come early, stay late and get to know your neighbors!

In the meantime, enjoy your Fall . . . and see you around the neighborhood!

Kristin

SURFACE WATER AND THE CITY – PART ONE

This article deals with the diversion of surface waters resulting from construction and other activities (e.g., dumping of materials in alleys and behind fences). It is the first in a series of articles addressing surface water issues in our neighborhood. These articles follow up on a presentation at the Association's September 5 Board Meeting by representatives of the Stormwater Management Division of the City's Transportation and Public Works Department. They are informational only and do not constitute legal advice to any person or entity. Later articles will address flood plains and flood insurance, step homeowners can take to protect their properties from flooding, and requirements under federal and state law and floodplain, grading, and other City of Fort Worth ordinances

The Stormwater Management Division states: "When rain hits any hard surface, such as your roof or driveway, it can't soak into the ground so it runs off your property. Uncontrolled runoff can lead to flooding, erosion and pollution problems. It is the city's job to help control this runoff." The key word here is "help." The City provides help on many matters. Others require vigilance and action by private citizens rather than reliance on City resources.

In Crestwood, many new homes and additions to existing homes have been built covering substantially more land than the homes formerly on the same properties. Curbs and driveways have changed water flows. Some homes have been built at elevations substantially higher than those of neighboring properties. This is due in part to City of Fort Worth Municipal Code § 7-347(a) which states: "New construction and substantial improvement of any residential structure [in areas of special flood hazards] shall have the lowest floor, including basement, elevated at least two feet above the floodplain base flood elevation resulting from ultimate development of the watershed." Although this provision applies only to construction in areas of special flood hazard, owners sometimes choose to elevate structures in other areas of Crestwood as well. As more land is covered by structures and impermeable surfaces such as driveways, and as more vegetation is stripped from land, the more runoff that land will generate. The water will flow somewhere.

"A drainage problem within your lot or water running from lot-to-lot is considered to be a civil matter and is not regulated by the City of Fort Worth." – Stormwater Management Division

New construction and other changes to property should comply with Texas Water Code §11.086(a) which states: "No person may divert or impound the natural flow of surface waters in this state, or permit a diversion or impounding by him to continue, in a manner that damages the property of another by the overflow of the water diverted or impounded." The statutory remedy for a violation of this provision is a civil suit under §11.086(b) which states: "A person whose property is injured by an overflow of water caused by an unlawful diversion or impounding has remedies at law and in equity and may recover damages occasioned by the overflow." The City states: "A drainage problem within your lot or water running from lot-to-lot is considered to be a civil matter and is not regulated by the City of Fort Worth. Contact an engineer or landscape professional to assist you in solving these matters."

<http://fortworthtexas.gov/stormwater/grading/>. If you are a homeowner seeking relief, it may be necessary for you to file a civil lawsuit. You may report issues to the City and the City may send a representative to review the situation and make recommendations, but the City will not take action for you. City funds are not spent to fix private problems.

Before new construction begins on any Fort Worth property, one might expect the City to examine building permit applications to protect nearby property owners from the diversion of surface waters onto their land. That is not the case. Neither the City's Planning and Development Department, which handles building permits, nor the Stormwater Management Division have the resources required to perform application-by-application reviews of this nature. Permitting reviews are mandated when large-scale development is involved. The same webpage states: "Land alteration in excess of 1 acre (effective Oct. 15, 2015) or more will require an approved Integrated Stormwater Management (iSWM) Plan Grading Permit." Special attention is also mandated for all construction in floodplains, including new construction and substantial improvements to existing structures. The City's "Development in the Floodplain" webpage (<http://fortworthtexas.gov/stormwater/development-in-the-floodplain/>) states:

The zoning ordinance, Floodplain Provisions Ordinance and the International Building Codes have special provisions regulating construction and other developments within floodplains. Without these provisions, affordable flood insurance through the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) would not be available to property owners in the City of Fort Worth. Any development in the floodplain without a permit is illegal. Such activity can be reported to the Stormwater Management Division's Customer Service at 817-392-6261.

Although reviews for properties under one acre and not located in floodplains are not mandatory, platting and replatting applications may also trigger a review. Whether a review will occur or not, the City's website states that "Single family and building permits applicants will be required to provide lot grading patterns."

Even though the Stormwater Division may not intervene on their behalf, residents should not hesitate to report to the Division problems experienced in areas other than those currently receiving special attention. Documentation of these problems may lead to needed recommendations for changes to City ordinances and procedures. – Bill Schur

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED BYLAW AMENDMENTS

At its regular meeting to be held Monday, December 5, 2016, the Executive Board of the Crestwood Association will consider proposed bylaw amendments to permit notices to be given and Board and Committee meetings conducted by electronic means. The proposed amendments will also clarify the extent to which Board meeting attendees who are not members of the Board may participate in Board discussions. If the current draft language is adopted, the affected provisions will read as follows:

ARTICLE V – EXECUTIVE BOARD

SECTION 5 – BOARD MEETINGS: The Executive Board shall meet within thirty days of the annual meeting. Regular meetings shall be held at places, dates, and times established by the Executive Board. Special meetings may be held on the call of the President, or any three Board members. Notice shall be given to the Board members not less than 48 hours prior to said meeting. The meetings shall be open to the members. The officer presiding at any meeting of the Board may, at his or her discretion, invite non-members of the Board to attend Board meetings and address the Board on such terms and conditions as the presiding officer may deem appropriate. Although members of the Association and Crestwood residents are encouraged to attend meetings of the Executive Board, non-members of the Board are not entitled to vote, speak at, or participate in Board meetings except as authorized by the presiding officer.

ARTICLE VIIA – MEETING NOTICES AND MEETINGS BY REMOTE COMMUNICATIONS TECHNOLOGY

SECTION 1 – NOTICES: In addition to and in lieu of the methods specified in other provisions of these Bylaws for giving notices, notices of regular and special meetings of the Association, its Executive Board, and its committees may be given or waived in any manner permitted under the provisions of the Texas Business Organizations Code applicable to Nonprofit Corporations.

SECTION 2 – ELECTRONIC MEETINGS: Meetings of the Association's Executive Board or any committee of the Association may be held by means of a remote electronic communications system (including but not limited to teleconferencing, videoconferencing, or Internet conferencing technology) if each person entitled to participate in the meeting consents to the meeting being held by means of that system and the system provides access to the meeting in a manner or using a method by which each person participating in the meeting can communicate concurrently with each other participant. By accepting election or appointment to a position as an Association officer, committee chair, committee member, or block representative, a person is deemed to consent to participation in any regular or called meeting of the Executive Board held by means of a remote electronic communications system, provided that adequate notice and instructions for participation are provided for each such meeting.

Summary of Proposed Crestwood Association Response Plan to Requested Zoning Changes and Variances

Due to the extremely short times provided by the City of Fort Worth for responses to applications for zoning changes and variances, it is necessary for the Association to implement a response plan that will enable it to act promptly with input from Crestwood residents. At its November 7, 2016 meeting, the Association Board will consider the response plan summarized below.

1. The Association receives a notice from the City or otherwise learns that a zoning change or variance has been or may be requested.
2. The Zoning Committee Chair and Association President review the notice to determine what is being requested, the deadlines for responding, and the dates set for hearings on the request.
  - 2.01 Requests for rezoning and requests for street-facing or height variances will automatically trigger an initial (“red flag”) review as described below.
  - 2.02 If the request is for a rear or side setback variance not facing a street, the Zoning Committee Chair or President will promptly notify the Board. No action in the Association’s name will be taken unless the President, or the Zoning Committee Chair with the approval of the President, determines that special circumstances necessitate further review and possible Association action.
  - 2.03 If no further review is undertaken, the Association will leave it up to neighbors near the subject location to comment or take such further action as they see fit.
3. The following steps will be taken when a red flag review is undertaken.
  - 3.01 The Zoning Committee Chair or Association President will seek an extension of deadlines and postponement of hearings before the Zoning Commission or Board of Adjustment to maintain the status quo long enough for the Association to analyze the proposed rezoning or variance request and make an appropriate, informed response on the merits of the requested change.
  - 3.02 The Zoning Committee Chair or Association President will designate two or more Association members to serve with the Zoning Committee Chair as voting members of a special ad-hoc committee which will analyze and recommend a response to the requested zoning change or variance. The Association’s President will serve as an ex-Officio member of the ad hoc committee. Designees will be appointed on a case-by-case basis.
  - 3.03 An email will be sent to the Association’s email distribution list informing recipients of the request, action taken by the Association to date, and subsequent actions that may be taken by the Association. Comments emailed to crestwoodemail@gmail.com will be routed to the Zoning Committee Chair and members of the ad hoc committee.
  - 3.04 The ad hoc committee will make a recommendation to the President and Board.
4. The Board and Officers will decide how to respond to the request and take action.
  - 4.01 At its next Regular meeting or a special meeting called to address the proposed rezoning or variance request, the Board will consider and approve, table or reject the ad hoc committee’s recommended action.
  - 4.02 If the Board decides to oppose the requested zoning change or variance, the Association Officers and Zoning Committee will take appropriate action to oppose the request.
  - 4.03 If the Board decides not to oppose the requested zoning change or variance, the Association will notify the appropriate City Commission or staff members that the Association has decided to (a) take no position on the requested zoning change or variance or (b) support the request.
