

Kansas Honey Producers Association Spring Meeting
March 6&7, 2020 Hays KS
Meeting: Whiskey Creek Wood Fire Grill, 3203 Vine St., Hays
Sleeping Rooms: Days Inn, 32056 Vine St., Hays 785-628-8261

The next meeting of the Kansas Honey Producers will be held in Hays KS. Please make your room reservations by February 7th to get the special price of $72.99 per night. Mention the Kansas Honey Producers to get this rate. Call the Days Inn at 785-628-8261.

We are working on a great line of guest speakers for this meeting. Kim Flottum, newly retired editor of the Bee Culture Magazine, will be one of our guests.

One of our other guests will be Dr. Liz Walsh. She just recently got her doctorate from Texas A&M. She'll have a new position and location by our meeting!

We are also honored to have several guest speakers from Fort Hays State University. Dr. Balthazor, Assistant Professor of Chemistry will speak on "Saving Bees By Killing Them: A Preliminary Research Topic. Also, Ryan Engel a graduate student will speak on "The Influence of land Use on the Pollen Diet of Honey Bee Colonies in Western Kansas". Sara Nansel-Lantz, A graduate student, will share her research on "Determining Effective Levels of Antibacterial Qualities of Kansas honeys".

Please check the Kansas Honey Producers website at www.kansashoneyproducers.org to register or for updates.

Future Meetings:

October 23 & 24, 2020 Best Western Wichita North, guest speaker Tammy Horn Potter, KY State apiarist (note date change)

March 5 & 6, 2021 Best Western Wichita North

October 22 & 23, 2021 Best Western Wichita North

KHPA members if something comes up at a meeting that can possibly be fixed (the room is too hot or too cold, the toilet is plugged up, the lock on your door doesn't work, there isn't a vegetarian option for a meal) please let me know as soon as possible so that I can take care of it. I can't fix something if I don't know if it's broken. Also, if you have a suggestion for a topic you would like to hear please let me know-usually I can find a speaker for a certain topic. And if I forget that you told me, remind me! My cell is 913-593-3562 and my email is joli@heartlandhoney.com. Some of the board members have suggested that we meet at the Best Western Wichita North on a permanent basis. We loved the facility! If you agree or disagree with this let your area representative know so that they can bring those thoughts to the next board meeting.
