

CAFFÉ ROMA RISTORANTE & LOUNGE

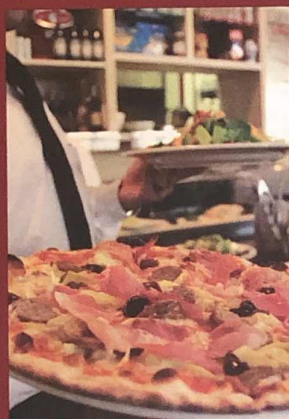

For more than 20 years, chef and restaurateur Agostino Sciandri has enchanted Angelenos by introducing authentic flavors of Northern Italy in his classic and contemporary Italian dishes.

Following the successes of Ago Restaurant, Sor Tino, and Toscanova, Sciandri has revitalized the legendary Beverly Hills restaurant Caffé Roma and returned it to its glory days. Located at 350 North Canon Drive in the Le Grand Passage, this landmark eatery is home to both young and old in search of the perfect pizza and a laid back, casual atmosphere. Patrons come to escape the hustle and bustle of LA. Enjoy a glass of wine and a homemade pasta as though dining al fresco in a piazza in Florence. From the thin-crust burrata, sausage, and rapini pizza to a succulent filet mignon steak topped with shaved parmesan and arugula. The fresh ingredients are of the highest quality.

For lunch, dinner, or a drink this beloved neighborhood hot-spot is full of charm. Take a break from shopping on a beautiful afternoon to people watch from the open lounge – you may spot a celebrity or two. Dine on the patio on a warm evening and watch a silent film projected on the walls outside. Have a special occasion to celebrate? Private dining rooms are available. Sip a cocktail at the bar or enjoy a late night nibble from Agostino's extensive menu of homemade Italian delicacies while listening to live music or our resident DJ. And don't forget, happy hour is daily from 3-8 p.m. when all drinks are half-price.
