

'Saddle a Hawg and Save a Dog'

The Randolph County Animal Shelter is happy to announce a new and exciting event! The shelter staff got creative with ideas while talking about an interest shared among some of them and their family members.

Thus, the first "Saddle A Hawg and Save A Dog Fun-raiser" for the Randolph County Animal Shelter was created for Saturday, Aug. 30.

Amy Adamson, shelter manager, and her husband, Tim, maintenance technician, are avid motorcyclists. Brad Kilgore, kennel technician, and his wife also enjoy riding motorcycles. Liz Sanford, kennel manager, saw her dad, Joey Randall, ride for years as well. Brad and Tim have been riders for over 20 years and enjoy doing group rides.

The event will start at Lakeside Marina and trek over lovely Cheaha State Park. Everyone will return to the Marina where there will be games, animals to pet and adopt, food, drinks, prize drawings, and fun for all ages. Drawings are $1.

Early registration is $25 for single or double riders. Stop by the RCAS office on Animal Shelter Road in Wedowee. For information the phone number is 256-357-0101. You can also register for $30 the morning of
