Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT, Linehan, 1993) is a comprehensive treatment that balances principles of acceptance (mindfulness) and change (behaviorism). It is a systematic cognitive-behavioral approach to working with individuals with severe dysfunctional behaviors, especially those with chronic patterns of emotion dysregulation and suicidal behavior. DBT has been applied to a wide array of populations including children and adolescents. Research supports its use to target suicidality, treatment drop out, hospitalization, behavioral dyscontrol, substance use disorders, eating disorders, treatment resistant depression in the elderly. DBT currently has more than 36 randomized controlled trials demonstrating its applications with adults and adolescents in various settings.

Core Clinical Training in DBT[®] (10 days, In-person Training)

The CCT Course[®] curriculum emphasizes case-based learning (clinical examples) and experiential learning (role plays, exercises, homework, and videos) to support the individual and team in developing the capabilities necessary to conduct DBT individual psychotherapy and to complete Certification as a DBT therapist (www.dbt-lbc.org). Because DBT is a team-based treatment and anyone providing any mode of DBT is required to be on a consultation team, participants will receive training on forming, participating in, strengthening teams and/or leveraging technology to form DBT teams across distances. One of the goals of this course is to develop effective practitioners who are members of sustainable programs. The CCT Course[®] focuses on DBT principles and strategies for program development and for DBT individual psychotherapy – not the specific behavioral skills. (Participants will have access to TIC's online course Master Class: Core Skills in DBT[®])

Master Class: Core Skills in DBT[®] (16 hours on demand)

Participants will have access to TIC's online course Master Class: Core Skills in DBT[®], a 16-hour online class to learn DBT behavioral skills and how to manage a Skills Training Group. Participants will have access to the course upon their CCT registration/payment through December 31, 2019.

Consultation Calls

In between Parts I & II, participants will have the option to participate 6 monthly consultation calls (dates to be determined). Participants will have the ability to have present a clip of a DBT individual psychotherapy session and receive feedback from the trainers and other participants.

This Core Clinical Training in Dialectical Behavior Therapy[®] course includes 82 hours of learning:

- 60 hours of live training in DBT (60 CEUs)
- Access to 16 hours of online training, Master Class: Core Skills in DBT[®]
- 6 hours of group consultation with the CCT trainers

Instructors will use Power Point presentations, case examples, handouts, role plays and practices to introduce concepts and provide opportunities to assimilate knowledge. There will be homework assignments each evening (during Parts I & II) and between each part of the training.
