

Summer Writing Prompts

1. What are your plans for summer break? Give lots of interesting details. Remember to use proper grammar, mechanics, and conventions.
2. If you could take a vacation anywhere, where would you go and why? Give lots of interesting details. Remember to use proper grammar, mechanics, and conventions.
3. What is your favorite summer family tradition? Use the O.R.E.O. strategy to help you. Give lots of interesting details. Remember to use proper grammar, mechanics, and conventions.
4. What would you do if summer lasted all year? Give lots of interesting details. Remember to use proper grammar, mechanics, and conventions.
5. Have you ever gone to summer camp? If so, explain what it was like. If you haven't been to a summer camp, write a fictional story about summer camp. Give lots of interesting details. Remember to use proper grammar, mechanics, and conventions.
6. Did you celebrate Juneteenth or the 4th of July? Tell how you celebrated your chosen holiday. If you celebrated both, choose one to write about. Give lots of interesting details. Remember to use proper grammar, mechanics, and conventions.
7. What is a Juneteenth? Explain to others what this holiday is and what it means. Use your informational writing strategies. Remember to use proper grammar, mechanics, and conventions.
8. What is Independence Day? Explain to others what this holiday is and what it means. Use your informational writing strategies. Remember to use proper grammar, mechanics, and conventions.
9. What is your favorite season? Use the O.R.E.O. strategy to help you. Give lots of interesting details. Remember to use proper grammar, mechanics, and conventions.
10. Have you ever had a summer job or done something to make money during the summer? Write about your experience. If you have not, write about different ways that you could make money during the summer. Give lots of interesting details. Remember to use proper grammar, mechanics, and conventions.