

Identity Theft

2,22,2019

I had no clue what to write about as usual, God is faithful to speak to my heart. It amazes me how much He puts up with me. Sometimes I feel like I don't deserve His love, but He continues to push the envelope and set new limits of His faithfulness towards me showing me that He truly will never leave me. What a love huh?

Anyways!

Tonight I was helping a friend with a business page on Facebook. We have been going around and around trying to figure out why he had a different look to his business page and when he went in on his cell phone there was another look altogether.

I have a business page attached to my personal page and so I was able to look at that as a sort of guideline to help see where the differences were. As I was digging deeper I noticed that he had two different sites. Neither of them were connected to his personal Facebook account which is why I didn't see it right away.

I won't bore you with the technical details but from this I felt like the Lord was asking if His people are allowing the enemy to steal their identity – to steal any bit of who God has created us to be? These people will spend countless hours trying to figure out more and more sophisticated ways to hoodwink us.

The Bible says that the enemy comes to steal, kill, and destroy. He will do it however he can – because he doesn't care about you or I at all. I don't know if you've ever gotten a friend request on Facebook from someone who you thought was already your friend? When you click accept on the request, sometimes you will immediately get a messenger message saying hi, and some kind of link will follow trying to pull you into a scam.

The enemy wants to scam us, he wants to waste our time, he wants to rob us of our identity in Christ – he's good at it – so I'm here to remind us – you and me – that Greater is the King of Kings Who is in us than the enemy of our souls.

Pray with me? Father forgive where we have given too much time to things that are not of You, help us to start our day with You and make a point to find where You are at work and join You. Lord protect our identity in You and help us to stay strong to run this race set before us. Father give us discernment to know the people to keep in our circles and in our childrens circles. Thank You Lord for being our shelter and our partner, our ever present Help in time of need – We love you – in Jesus name, Amen.
