FOND FAREWELLS

D. Richard Thomas(1927 - 2018)

David Richard "Dick" Thomas, died June 30, 2018 at his home in Columbus, Ohio. He was born in Columbus, Ohio on March 31, 1927, the eldest son of Warren H. and Evelyn Davis Thomas. During his youth, the family lived in Cincinnati and Dayton before moving to Xenia, Ohio in 1937. Dick graduated from Xenia High School in 1945, where he was class president for three years, captain of the football team, and a member of the National Honor Society. Following graduation, he enlisted in the U.S. Navy and served aboard four Pacific Fleet ships during World War II. Upon his discharge, Dick enrolled at The Ohio State University to study architecture and joined the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. In 1948, he met Joan "Joey"

Saveson, who was born in Gahanna, Ohio and was at the time a student at Louisiana State University. They both graduated college in 1951, and a week later were married at Peace Lutheran Church in Gahanna. That same year they moved to Xenia, where their four children were born and raised. Dick practiced architecture in Dayton before starting his own firm in Xenia in 1958. In 1959, he contracted paralytic polio and spent months in the hospital for recuperation and rehabilitation. In 1961, Verdin Moll joined his firm as a partner. Deeply involved in civic activities in Xenia, Dick served as president of the Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce, and the Greene County Historical Society. He served on the board of the Legal Aid Society, the Human and Civil Rights Commissions, and the Spirit of '74 Committee following the Xenia Tornado. In 1974, the Xenia community awarded Dick with the Torrence Award. He was a member and elder of Westminster Presbyterian Church, where he sang in the choir for many years. In 1983, Dick and Joey moved to Adams County, Ohio, where they lived a more rustic, nature-related lifestyle on forested acres in the Appalachian foothills. Dick helped establish the Adams County Chamber of Commerce and served as its treasurer.

After Dick endured a variety of medical adventures, he and Joey moved to Columbus in 1997, where three of their children lived. For the next fifteen years Dick volunteered with his son, Jeff, at the Ohio Historical Society and the Ohio State University Archives, and with Joey at the Inniswood Metro Gardens. Dick is survived by Joey; sons, Jeff (Beth) and Gary; daughter, Leslie (Bill); and daughter-in-law, Carol; five grandchildren, Dylan (Tami), Sam, Megan, Jake and Nick; and two great-grandchildren, Tate and Gavin. He was predeceased by his parents, brother Warren "Tom", and eldest son Rory. In lieu of funeral services, family and friends will celebrate Dick's life at a later date. Memorial contributions may be directed to the Inniswood Volunteers, Inc., 940 S. Hempstead Road, Westerville, OH 43081 or The Ohio State University Archives, 2700 Kenny Road, Columbus, Ohio 43210.

WALES, AN ADVENTURE OF A LIFETIME

Emma Lyles

Arriving in Swansea, Wales, I wasn't sure what to expect but I knew I was ready to live abroad. I was ready to be open-minded and take every experience that was offered to me along the way. After settling in and sleeping after 40+ hours without, my friend Anna and I (Anna is the other student sent to Wales on Exchange) were filled to the brim with excitement. Here we were in a new country for the next three months, and for me it was my final semester of college. Spreading my curtains of my large window on the third floor, I took in the view. I knew I was looking into one of the Trinity Saint David's art buildings that I would sometimes have classes in, but I would soon learn the one right in front of me is a popular setting in many TV shows including Sherlock and Doctor Who.

One of my earliest and favorite days in Swansea was spent walking miles around the small city and along the beach. The weather was beautiful and because the two of us were used to being nine hours from the closest beach, we were giddy running along the wide shore and inspecting rocks or shells. We looked at Swansea Castle, which is still standing in the middle of the city from the 1100's. We walked all through Singleton park, where there were gorgeous botanical gardens we basically had to ourselves. At a walk around campus with the international students, we wouldn't know it but we had met who would become some of our best friends in Swansea for the next three months.

First time seeing Swansea Beach.

I have never been one to shy away from adventure, but in this place that felt like magic I had to grab it by the reins. Every weekend we would do our research and find the nearest town to explore. We saw a lot of the gower and many beaches that we were able to get to by bus and took in as much history as we could. One day, three of us even got small tattoos representing Wales. As time went on, Wales did not get any less exciting, but it did start to feel more like home. I knew this after spending a week in London. Our art course took a trip there to see all of the big museums and I stayed longer to do some of the touristy things. Five days in I had an ache for home, one that I had not felt yet since being away from Ohio. However, it wasn't Ohio I missed, it was Wales- The accents, the small town vibe and kindness of it's people (of the whole country), the picturesque nature sites, the national pride. Riding the 5 hour bus back to Swansea was bitter sweet. I couldn't wait to be back in my lumpy twin bed, but I started to dread leaving Wales in a month. Still though, I had always known I would have to leave.

It's strange how looking back I don't have one single favorite memory, but a general overwhelming fondness for Wales and the people I met there. The experience is hard to put into words but it's one I will cherish forever. I want to thank The Welsh Society of Central Ohio for the generous scholarship making it possible for me to have this opportunity. I have never felt more myself than when I was in Wales, and I know many people have had this same feeling. I am extremely thankful that I was able to be somewhere that makes goodbye's so hard. A part of me will always be with Cymru!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The month of January was named in honor of the Roman God of doors, Janus. Janus represents beginnings and can look both behind and forward just like an actual door. As we enter the new year of 2019 together, I would like to think that we'll always continue to precede much like a door. Our WSCO group will always look to the past with our treasured traditions as we move forward with creating new memories together.

Please join us for a new fun filled year. We are in the midst of planning our annual Saint David's Day Banquet at the Worthington Hills Country Club and the possibility of additional Welsh Language Class opportunities.

Many wishes to you, your family, and friends for a joyous and blessed New Year!
