There are several options for beginner scuba certification, referred to as an Open Water Diver. All options have academic sessions, pool dive sessions, and 4 training dives required for the certification. For any of the options you will need to set aside time for pre-study before your class, have your own snorkeling gear (mask, fins, snorkel) appropriate for scuba, and complete a medical questionnaire which might require a physician's approval for diving.

Island Hoppers promises no hidden fees in any of the programs. Some scuba programs in the Nashville Area can run as much as $600 per person (before snorkeling gear) by the time you add it all up.

Don't have time to do the complete certification, try one of our online courses. You complete all of your academics online, then join one of our instructors for private pool sessions.

So why choose Island Hoppers Scuba?

- Island Hoppers goal is to help you become a scuba diver by full filling all of your diving needs.
- Island Hoppers is a full service scuba shop. For scuba gear, education, scuba travel, and equipment service we are the one stop scuba store in Nashville. We are not operating out of our garage like a fly by night business.
- Island Hoppers is a PADI 5 Star IDC facility. That means we continually pass rigorous criteria to remain up to date on training guidelines, our air is tested regularly, we have certified equipment technicians, and we train instructors. All of this guarantees you are getting the best education and experience possible.
- Island Hoppers promises to always do what is best for you. Even if it means referring you to another facility to meet your diving needs.
- Island Hoppers has been operating in the Nashville area for over 25 years. This is not a culmination of 4 different people's time in the business. The owner and guy behind the counter, Rob Harris, has been doing this since 1988.
- Island Hoppers only uses only the best and most current scuba equipment for your training. Including Atomic Aquatics regulators and weight integrated BCDs. We train you in the best because we want you to be the best.
- Island Hoppers does ask that you have your own snorkeling equipment appropriate for scuba. This ensures that everything fits you properly, that your mask does not leak during training dives, and that there is no fear of someone else's germs.
- There are no Gotcha's at Island Hoppers. Everything is presented up front with no hidden fees. Some have add on fees totaling over $150!
