

Back By Popular Demand!
Kirk R. Brown as John Bartram in:
“John Bartram Lives...”

Free Dramatic Presentation
When: Tuesday, February 12th
@ 7:00 PM
Where: Cranford Community Center
220 Walnut Ave, Cranford

For more information on this event please see the Hanson Park Conservancy's website www.hansonparkconservancy.com.

This program will feature Kirk R. Brown costumed and acting as America's first botanist and creator of the world's first public botanical garden in Philadelphia.

John Bartram was America's first native botanist and was friends with many of America's Founding Fathers: Thomas Jefferson, George Washington & John Adams.

He is credited with producing North America's first pharmacopeia of native medicinal plants, and with reforesting most of the English countryside with his many new "American" plant introductions.

The program is free and open to the public. No registration is required, but seating is available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

This history program is made possible in part by a HEART (History, Education, Arts Reaching Thousands) Grant from the Union County Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Presented by the Hanson Park Conservancy.