Recommended New Books

- A London A-Z
This author of many famous novels has now turned to writing short stories with great success. The stories all of Londoners' daily lives and happen in eighteen different places - for example, one story takes place at a table in a cafe, another in the back of a taxi and another in a hospital.
- B Burkham's Great Days
Joseph Burkham is one of Britain's best-loved authors these days, but I was introduced to read that during his lifetime it was not always so. An historian Peter Harvey looks at how Burkham's work aroused interest at first but then became less popular.
- C The Missing Photograph
Another story about the well-known policeman, Inspector Manning. It is written in the same simple but successful way as the other 'Manning' stories - I found it a bit disappointing as I guessed who the criminal was halfway through!
- D Gene West
A screen look at one of the least-known regions of the United States. The author describes the empty villages which thousands left when they were persuaded by the railway companies to go West in search of new lives. The author manages to provide many interesting details about their history.
- E The Letter
The master of a television star appears to be the work of fiction who are quickly caught. But they escape from prison and a young lawyer says she knows who the real criminals are. Written with intelligence, this story is so fascinating that it demands the reader's complete attention.
- F Let me tell you ...
The twenty stories in this collection describe the lives of different people who were born in London in 1925. Each story is the life history of a different person. Although they are not true, they gave me a real feeling for what life would be like for the ordinary person.
- G The Last Journey
John Reynolds' final trip to the African Congo two years ago unfortunately ended in his death. For the first time since then, we hear about where he went and what happened to him from journalist Tim Holden, who has followed Reynolds' route.
- H Free at Last!
Matthew Hunt, who spent half his life in jail for a crime he did not do, has written the moving story of his lengthy fight to be set free. Now out of prison, he has taken the advice of a judge to describe his experiences in a book.
