The Wonderful World of Old Time Music & Dance which we have inherited from past generations, was the very music and dance of our parents, grandparents and even our great grandparents generations, it's very soundtrack moulded and shaped Great Britain and it's Empire from early Victorian times through two world wars up until quite recently.

It was forged and created over many generations by a host of dedicated and determined professionals of the highest calibre. Teachers, Dancers, Musicians, Composers, and Arrangers, and this unique art form became the very essence of our english culture and heritage -Left to us as a Legacy in Trust.

We in this Society will endeavour to Preserve and Promote this unique English art form to the best of our ability, so that we can keep it alive and pass it on, in trust, to Future Generations.
