You Spoke Up...We Answered!

80% of TIX Con 2017 attendees requested more training on investigations, victim response topics, and partnership/coalition building.

Conference Location: Myrtle Wilks Community Center– Cisco, TX 76448

GENERAL TIX CON TOPICS:

De-Escalation Techniques- Whether in the classroom or in a disciplinary hearing, emotions and situations can become charged. Equip yourself and your staff with tips and techniques utilized by active law enforcement when confronting heated adult and juvenile individuals.

Educating Victims of Trauma I: Neurobiology of Trauma– Trauma affects more than the emotional state of an individual. By understanding the immediate, short term, and long-term physical effects of trauma, school counselors, educators and staff can better address a juvenile’s behavior and create a more successful learning environment.

Educating Victims of Trauma II: Trauma Informed Care-Title IX is more than just a series of processes and forms. It is also about minimizing the harm done to victims as they move on from the assault. Learn effective and helpful ways to immediately respond to a victim of violence as well as additional ways to provide meaningful support and assistance as they heal.

Engaging Community Partners: Prevention- This training leads participants through the process of working with their communities to prevent violence. Presenters will guide participants through the process of identifying potential partners in prevention, learn effective engagement strategies, and design an action plan for community involvement in prevention

Investigation Part 1 & 2– In accordance with this September 2017 guidance, this course is for Title IX investigations and covers the core training requirements: learning how to analyze and document evidence, objectively evaluate the credibility of parties and witnesses, synthesize available evidence, and accounting for unique and complex circumstances of each case (Two Parts)

Legal Resources: Safety Planning with Teens-Approximately 1 in 5 female students is a victim of physical abuse from their dating partner. Some studies suggest nearly 20% of them will be killed by their current or former intimate partner. Learn how a school can assess risk for those in these relationships and the resources available to help keep teenagers safe after reporting and/or leaving a violent relationship.

Mandatory Reporting: Federal & State Requirements- Resources on training your staff to recognize and properly report instances of child abuse, sexual harassment, dating violence, and sexual violence

Navigating Safely: Technology & Intimate Partner Violence– Technology is everywhere and it is important to understand how it may be misused within the context of intimate partner violence. This training will focus on various technologies with an emphasis on strategies to promote survivor’s safer use of social media, phones, and other modalities

TARGETED EDUCATION TOPICS:

Cultural Considerations-Discussion of cultural impact in reporting, recognizing, and appropriately responding to instances of sexual harassment/violence

Unwelcome in the Workplace- Legal and best practices information on creating a sexual harassment free workplace in employee- to- employee and employee- to- student contact.

Peer Groups– Culture & Retaliation- Identify and address impact of same sex peer groups in creating campus culture and in engaging in retaliation against alleged victims & harassers

TITLE IX INTRODUCTION TOPICS:

Basics of Title IX Investigation- Overview of the Title IX investigation process from reporting to appeal process

Crafting Title IX Compliant Policies- Most standard school grievance policies fall short of adequately addressing the requirements, guidelines, and mandates of Title IX complaint resolution and steps to remediation and sexual violence prevention. Learn how to improve and strengthen your policies to be able to respond to a Title IX complaint from notice through appeal process.

Role of Title IX Coordinator- Going beyond a list of duties, this program examines not only the requirements of a Title IX Coordinator but also provides guidance in helping choose and properly equip the staff member chosen to oversee the Title IX pro-
