

SUMMER CAMPS 2020

We want to thank you for all of your support these past few months. It is greatly appreciated. Seeing your child's face, even over Zoom has made this time more fun, creative, and inspiring. We look forward to when we can see all of their faces in person! Thank you for helping us to know that we are all in this together.

Since we care so much about you and your families, we have put together a medical advisory committee, made up of parents with qualifying experience, to help us devise the best plan for returning to camps and rehearsals.

If Seattle's Performers is able to provide in-person camps and classes this summer, many precautions will be taken to ensure everyone's safety. This will include, but not limited to, requiring face masks, limiting camp sizes, shorter camp times to limit possible exposure, staggered arrival and departure times, maximizing air flow where possible, utilizing outdoor spaces whenever possible, and rigorous, regular cleaning.

Below, we have listed the current plan for the summer.
