1977 Celebrating 40 Years 2017

9/11 Memorial Plaza

A tribute to the past and a place of hope for the future — the 9/11 Memorial Plaza is alive with twin spirits of remembrance & renewal. The 8-acre park is a supremely contemplative sanctuary, composed of a grove of nearly 400 white oak trees, and the largest manmade waterfalls in the United States. Set within the footprints of the original Twin Towers, each pool is approximately 1-acre in size. The names of every person who perished in the terror attacks of February 26, 1993 & September 11, 2001 are honored in bronze around the twin Memorial pools.

9/11 Memorial Museum

The National 9/11 Memorial Museum is located within the archaeological heart of the original WTC site. The Museum serves as the country's principal institution concerned with exploring the historic implications of that tragic date, through state-of-the-art multimedia exhibits, archives and monumental artifacts. Paying reverent homage to the nearly 3,000 victims of the attacks, the museum also recognizes the thousands who survived, and all who showed extraordinary courage & compassion in the catastrophe's aftermath.

Next Meeting: JULY 27, 2017

On April 11, 2017 forty members of Harvest Years Senior Center visited the 9/11 Museum in New York City. The Museum bears solemn witness to the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001 and February 26, 1993. The Museum honors the nearly 3,000 victims of these attacks and all those who risked their lives to save others. We enjoyed an inspiring day of remembrance. The weather was beautiful for those who went up to the new Observation Tower. We are planning another trip to the Museum in 2018 and we will have a guide to tour us through the Museum. There is so much to see and a guide will be an exceptional way to understand what we will be viewing.

The Summer of 2017 is in full swing! Three cheers for the Red, White, and Blue! There is plenty of summer time fun awaiting you here at The Harvest Years. I do want to remind all of our members to stay cool and hydrated during these upcoming hot days. Pop in and see us and we can keep cool together. Let us do the cooking for you for the month of July!

Our annual Summertime Root Beer Float is back! Floats are available for $2.00 each. If you buy a mug and join our MUG CLUB, for $5.00 you will receive 4 free floats and after that, refills are only a dollar through Labor Day. Floats are available daily 10 AM - 3 PM. Come on in, cool down, and enjoy this Harvest Years sweet tradition!

As a reminder: Please try to take advantage of our Transportation Program to and from our center. Let us do the driving this summer in our new air-conditioned buses. It is as little as .50 cents each way. Come in to enjoy some company, activities, a card game, a day trip we have planned, or maybe just lunch.

The sidewalk repair, funded through a grant, has been completed. A big thanks to all the contractors who worked hard making our entry and exit from the center safe and secure.

In August we will be celebrating Volunteer Appreciation Month. We want to take time as the new fiscal year approaches to thank our volunteers. We are so very glad that you are here for us! Stay tuned....

Sale travels to all that are visiting friends and family during these summer months!

See you soon!, Tom

Parades, Patriotism, Love of Country (and Other Nations' Gratitude for America)

If you love a parade, Central Kent County is a great place to live. Throughout the year, we Kent Countians put on our best and march through the streets in celebration of lots of good things. We have the Peach Festival Parade in Wyoming (coming up next month – Saturday, August 5), homecoming parades for Dover and CR High Schools and Delaware State University, Halloween and Christmas parades in Downtown Dover and the two biggest parades in our communities, the annual Dover Days parade in early May and the July 4 parade this month.

Like many elected officials, I try to participate in as many of these as possible. For Dover Days, I get dressed up in colonial garb reminiscent of the days when Dover and Kent County played such a key role in the early development of our democratic society. On July 4, we deck out our car with red, white and blue bunting and lots and lots of American flags. I don an American flag shirt and love cheering “Happy Birthday, America” to the thousands of people who line State Street. The July 4 parade is sponsored by American Legion Post 2 and they should be commended for giving so many people the opportunity to show their love of country in such a fun and constructive way.

One of the cherished traditions I love on July 4 is the patriotic music we hear throughout the day. And that reminds me of one of the most memorable of those musical, patriotic moments I have experienced. Ironically, it wasn't on July 4 and it wasn't even initiated by Americans.

Several years ago, my wife and I attended a concert in Baltimore by a Dutch orchestra leader who specializes in popular, classical music. His name is Andre Rieu. This concert occurred around the 60th anniversary of D-Day, the day Allied forces, led by America, successfully landed on the beaches of France, signaling the beginning of the end of the Nazi plague on Europe.

At one point in the concert, Rieu turned to the audience and explained that while he was here in America for this concert, President Bush was actually in the Netherlands to participate in celebrations of that 60th anniversary. As Rieu put it, “your President is in my country because 60 years ago, you liberated us.”

Rieu then lifted his violin and, as a way of saying thank you to America, began playing a quiet, respectful solo of “America the Beautiful”. Soon, sections of the orchestra joined in, then more sections until the entire orchestra was fully involved. Then, a chorus was added to the mix, joining the orchestra in a magnificent statement of gratitude to America. It was impressive.

This generated wild and energetic applause, to say the least, with the entire audience on their feet cheering and clapping. Rieu then looked at the audience through one of those jumbo TV screens and asked, “Do you want more?” Getting an enthusiastic reply, the orchestra launched into a stunning rendition of “Stars and Stripes Forever”, a performance that still rings in my mind.

During this month of our country's birthday celebration, I hope your love of country is renewed and reinvigorated and if you happen to pick up a few strains of “Stars and Stripes Forever”, that's all the better. See you at the parade!
