

Thank You, Still Small Voice Family

September 11, 2015

First of all, I want to thank you, my beautiful Family, for upholding the Lord's honor and encouraging me to continue on in the calling that He's given us. Every one of you are truly precious gems in His Kingdom, no matter what our faults. Because love covers a multitude of sins. And certainly you've loved Ezekiel and I, and our little volunteer staff. To God be the Glory, for He truly is the one who brought us all together on this channel for His very special and particular purpose!

In all our years of ministry, from the northern borders of this country all the way down to Columbia, South America, I've never met a more loving and courageous group of souls. All of you who stayed with us during the hard messages have shown great love and courage towards the Lord. It really takes a lot of courage to receive some of these messages and really ask ourselves where we are with the Lord. Some of these things are...wow. It's not for cowards, that's for sure! It's not for cowards to deal with our faults, to deal with our own deep-seated faults and insecurities. So, it takes a lot of courage, and it's very much appreciated.

And, I'm simply amazed at the discoveries I make of different people who listen everyday, who each of you are. Because, you know, not everyone comments, and every once in a while there'll be a comment from someone I've never heard of before, but they've been listening for a few months. It's so beautiful and edifying to get to know each and every one of you.

And I awoke this morning just wanting to thank you. And I asked the Lord, just in case, "Was there anything on Your mind that You wanted to talk to them about?" and He said, "I think thank you's are in order." And I agreed with Him. So, I just wanted to share that with you before I went about the rest my day and took care of other responsibilities. And then tonight, God willing, we'll be getting a message.

And, thank you for the prayers for the dentist. She's an amazing lady, and highly skilled, as well as very ethical as a dentist. So, we're getting those issues resolved.

I would like to ask you to please keep Davelynn, our precious brother Dave (they go by that handle, Davelynn) in your prayers. He shared about his situation and his health is critical at this point, with him being put in hospice. And we want to keep him immerse in our love and prayers and encouragement. I've Skyped with them - Ezekiel and I have Skyped with them, and they are a lovely couple in Wales. Lynn, his wife, really needs our support right now. The two of them are like shining lamps in the dark world we live in. I pray that the Lord's sweet presence would be with them, and give them strength and support and they might experience Your Glory, Dear Lord.

So, God willing, we'll have a message for you tomorrow morning. I was just so overwhelmed by your kindness to us, I had to sneak this in! I love you all! The Lord bless you, and I'm looking forward to the message tonight.
