Relax and Create

March 2nd, 2023

Lord, please help us to exercise the gifts and hidden talents You have blessed us with, so that we may glorify You in all that we do. Amen.

Jesus began, “My Beloved, I want to speak with you. I know that you are feeling overwhelmed right now because of all the possibilities and work set before you. But I want to simplify it and take away this needless tension. This kind of stress is like a stunned rabbit caught in the headlights.

“Just as the song said, it’s so simple, it’s so easy... (a Julie True song), truly it is so much more simple than you make it out to be. I don’t want you to be tense and hung up on what to do next, with all the pros and cons and stressors. I am not beating you Clare, rather I am dancing with you and enjoying your company.

“Your joy brings Me joy, and there is far too little of it in your life. You have grown accustomed to heaviness and stress, over yourself, Ezekiel and the world. I want to lift that burden from you because My yoke is easy and My burden light. I know you love to work, so I have set before you things you can do for the kingdom. I want you to be lighthearted and peaceful, not so serious My Love. Not so tense about what’s coming next, but rather have the heart attitude of one who is safely covered away under My wings, someone who is safe and has every need cared for. Like for instance this house, and how clean it is now, that’s my gift to you so you can have joy in your work... without feeling guilty about cleaning.”

“But Lord, I don’t know what to do next.”

“You picked prayer and being with Me, that was the best choice you could make. Now comes other things, fun things, not gloomy things. I want to lift your spirits. That’s another reason I want you ignorant of what’s happening in the world. It’s like a demon of self-concern. You needn’t be concerned Beloved, for I have taken all your concerns into My own capable hands. What is left for you is to create and refine your gifts.”

“I get depressed over that thought.”

“That’s because you are looking at what you can do, not what I will do. I will do more than you can think or imagine with your little efforts. Your job is to bring it into working order with My grace, My job is to put it where souls will derive the most benefit from it. So you see, you have very little to concern yourself with. This pattern of worry is a very bad habit your mother also had. I don’t need your worries, sweep them away as crumbs messing up a counter top. Just sweep them away and work on what I give you to do. And stop worrying about your body, I have covered that.” (In that moment, I was musing on what could be wrong with me.)

“That’s more fear, more worry. Don’t you know that Satan’s servants are trying to redirect your energy away from your creative gifts? Worry is one of the easiest things to infect a person with, so they will lose focus on the good things to do and enjoy.”

I was quiet, just waiting.

"I'm here," Jesus said.

"I'm listening my Lord."

"Well the whole point of what I wanted to say to you today, is stop worrying."

"But things are coming upon the earth, really difficult things."

"And when they come, I will handle them, we will handle them, so you see, there is nothing to worry about, only just obeying Me, doing what I want you to do with your time, enjoying the creative life I have given you. You think and worry too much. You should be more like your husband, spontaneous and enjoying what he does, not looking over his shoulder all the time asking if he is doing the right thing. Once he has determined that it is My will for him, he relaxes and enjoys the process."

"You know I will help you dear one. I am always standing by to help. Clare, enjoy the gifts I have given you, enjoy them. When I ask you to do something like Chronicles, it is just a suggestion, because I know it would help many. Don't get all tied up in knots if another song comes up instead. Don't beat yourself for Heaven's sake, and I mean that literally. Heaven does not like to see you all tied up in a ball. The angels want to flow with you. Relax, rest, enter into the slip stream of joy, riding the current to wherever it takes you."

I have always been compared to the land tortoise, plodding along slowly, but after I saw 'Finding Nemo', I was graduated into the slip stream of grace, i.e., the fast-moving ocean current, just allowing myself to be swept away.

"Peace I give you, My peace I leave with you and all My Heart Dwellers. Rest in this and do what comes naturally. Do not stress, please. Now rise up, dear ones and walk in your anointing!"

San Damiano Cross

March 3rd, 2023

Father Ezekiel: I was right there, and they were digging trenches.

Mother Clare: In Belgium.

Father Ezekiel: In Belgium and other places. I do not know if this is past, present or future.

Mother Clare: Right.

Father Ezekiel: But they were lining up civilians, families- Mothers, fathers, children, right at the edge of the trenches.

Mother Clare: Oh my gosh.

Father Ezekiel: And shooting them at random. Of course, they would fall into the pit they had dug, the trench, and just covering them back up. And I was wearing a long, wide like a winter raincoat. When the man was shot that I saw, I did not know what else to do but gather the children and the woman into that raincoat and just cover them, so they could not see, maybe, any more than what they had already seen.

The Blessed Mother came and wrapped her mantle around it, my winter raincoat, which was holding his wife and children.

Mother Clare: Hmmm.

Father Ezekiel: And they were young, they are young, seven, eight, nine years old.

Mother Clare: Hmmm. Dear God.

Father Ezekiel: And Daddy came, and wrapped His mantle around the Blessed Mother, so we were enfolded inside of their mantles.

Mother Clare: Hmmm.

Father Ezekiel: And all I could think of was 'Please Lord, do not let them remember this! Block their memories, block their emotions, block something!' It is or it will be very, very horrible, but more and more commonplace along the countries that border Russia.

Mother Clare: That is what the Nazis did.

Father Ezekiel: They say history repeats itself, I do not know, all I know is what I saw.

Mother Clare: Who is killing the people?

Father Ezekiel: The Illuminati.

Mother Clare: I wonder why?

Father Ezekiel: I do not know. They look like middle-to-upper class families, you know, maybe the dad was a banker or something, I do not know. Parents were right there about in their forties, the children were so young.

Mother Clare: There was something else you wanted me to record from earlier.

Father Ezekiel: Well, ask me anything you want to and I will try to answer your questions.

Mother Clare: It was-from the other recording that we did, I forget what it was about- what was that other recording about?

Father Ezekiel: The Lord bleeding from the Crucifix?

Mother Clare: Yeah, that is right, I never did get that.

Father Ezekiel: The Lord- I mean real blood-

Mother Clare: It was the San Damiano Cross.

Father Ezekiel: Right. Franciscan cross. Bleeding real blood, I mean copious, just pumping out of His side

Mother Clare: Hmmm.

Father Ezekiel: Into a golden chalice that was suspended in the air. And He asked that we have Adoration of the Precious Blood tonight, at least for an hour, today, wherever the clock happens to be around the world.

Mother Clare: Ok. I had better do that.

Father Ezekiel: Kind of where I have been trying to stay and come back to. When I drift, the chalice is just suspended right in front of me right in the air, and the Crucifix-

Mother Clare: Wow.

Father Ezekiel: Real warm, human blood coming out of it.

Mother Clare: Wow.

Father Ezekiel: And yet the chalice- It seems like it is never-it is never full.

Mother Clare: What do you do to represent?

Father Ezekiel: The Lord is never, never, never, never, ever, done with souls, until that last fatal decision, and He will give them to the marrow of His bones, to the last millisecond to snatch these souls from the abyss of Hell. I mean reaching over the edge and snatching them.

That is all I know for now.

Called Up Higher

March 10th, 2023

Beloved Heart Dwellers may the Lord give you endurance and stamina, foresight and patience in this time, as the world comes more and more to a place of decision, serious decision, about the survival of nations. Your prayers are making a huge difference. Things that were slated to happen have been scrapped, and in place of that, good things are happening.

And as far as the community goes, we have had a lot of challenges lately. The Lord is opening our hearts up, doing little heart surgery and showing the contents of our hearts, and with the snow and I do not know, I do not want to give any excuses but I would say that the heavy snow and cold weather we definitely have been losing a little patience here and there and complaining, grumbling – remember how they did that out in the desert with Moses and the trouble it got them into, how the Earth swallowed up the group of people that were complaining. So, the Lord is showing us some of the things in our hearts that we really need to get out of our hearts permanently.

So, I came into prayer, and I said forgive me Lord, I feel so lousy. My fibromyalgia was kicking up.

The snow is beautiful, and the community is amazing...all of you-all you are doing is wonderful, I want to feel wonderful too. What is the secret?

I heard Him immediately.

"Love suffering."

Ha, ha, ok. Can You please teach me how?

"It takes time to change your perspective about suffering, it requires you to keep your heart and mind in Heaven and on My agenda. Once you are in that place, it is much easier."

And I said-Okay....

He continued, "There is no easy or pleasant answer to suffering, it will always be a work in progress. 'For the joy set before Him, He endured the cross.' Clare, it is just that simple.

"This community is going through growing pains, to expand well enough to handle what is planned for it in the future. This is a wonderful season of growth, and much can be accomplished if all work together and learn to carry their cross without complaint, but gratitude that they are indeed saving souls by their sacrifices. They must understand the meaning of suffering and come to a peace about the need for it in their lives. You know how I love cheerful givers."

I am thinking to myself, lately I have been anything but that.

"All of you are called much higher," He continued, "and because you said yes, I am taking you there. I am so sorry it is such a difficult class for you, but you have been living in the lower levels for quite some time, and now it is time to graduate and come up to My school for you. Not everyone is called up higher. I only call those I know are willing to die to themselves more each day and become co-redeemers with Me. A co-redeemer could be a missionary, a book publisher, a martyr, a victim soul, a schoolteacher, a musician. Only one thing qualifies a soul to co-redeem with Me. Their heart is united to My Heart, and they desire only one thing, to labor with Me for My agenda.

"I cannot do it alone; I also need hearts and hands and feet to bring all souls into the Kingdom. Those who have joined Me in this work are co-redeemers. Of course, only I could open the gates of Heaven, but then there were more needed to deliver My message. Your reward in Heaven is great Clare, and the same is true of your community, if you all persevere."

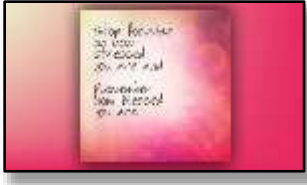

And someone during the Rosary saw an incredible jeweled crown in the air, spinning. It had jewels of every kind in it, flashing light, and it was just glowing and beautiful.

The Lord continued, "The jeweled crown that was seen spinning in the room as you prayed was a crown you will all wear at the end of your journey, if you persevere. I intend to give you every possible grace so that you will persevere and do so joyfully. This is My Heart's desire, to labor with you, My beautiful Brides, until we dance that very special dance in Heaven that only the Bride and Groom can dance together.

“So, persevere and do not lose heart there is much reward for you in Heaven, and know that the more you suffer, the closer you are to Me.”

Stop Complaining - Start Thanking

March 15th, 2023

Dear God, we thank You for filling us up with a spirit of gratitude and thanksgiving for all You do for us each and every day. Amen!

Mother Clare began, “Lord, I am a little fuzzy.”

“Yes, I can see that. Just push on through.”

“I don’t know what to do about my appetite.”

“It has to be a decision you can stick with,” Jesus continued. If you reach too high you will fail. If you don’t reach at all you will fail. Ask for help. Do not get stuck on this now. We can go deeper later. Part of it is the craving of your body. I know you don’t want to give into it, but you are in a dilemma. It is going to take GRACE. More grace. This is not something you can conquer on your own, no matter how lofty are your intentions, but with My help, nothing is impossible.

“As you navigate through these times Beloved, be aware, always that there is help available. I have not left you on your own. But you must reach out for that help with a sincere heart and intention to conquer your flesh. I wish i could tell you that fasting is not necessary, but I can’t. There is much to conquer in your flesh and that is a starting point. However, if you concentrate too much on your fault it will become a monster. All of this attention must shift to My Holy Face and will for you. Then you will have something solid to stand on in the midst of your trials. Think about pleasing Me, think about nourishing your flock. Think about the eternal consequences of not getting your flesh under control. Then, come to Me with true contrition and I will help you.”

“Please help me Lord to be really contrite.”

“Clare, I love you so much, and I only want what is best for you, but you are weak, and I do take that into consideration. I also take into account the love and mercy you show to those around you. That is more important to Me than all the fasts in the world. But if you hate yourself for your weakness, it will be harder for you to love others. If you see yourself in My mirror, you will see and wonder with incredulity how in the world you could ever even fast from one sweet, let alone a whole season of self-denial. Do you feel better?”

Jesus continued, “I know your motives are partially good. I think you need to get past this difficult season to have more self-control. The business of the community is very taxing and when problems arise, you have no idea how much you are drained in that process. That is in part what is going on here. The sweets are covering for some very draining events of late. It will take a while for you to get back on your feet. So at this time, I say to you, moderation. That is the least you can do. Eat what is necessary to boost your system, then leave off with it.

"I am speaking to all of you My Brides. There is no easy way out of abstinence and self-denial. It is a cross, which I will assist you with when you call for help. But you must do the hard, hard work of denying yourself when cravings come up. Certainly, try to satisfy your body's needs with healthy food and perhaps medicine, but self-denial is still a challenge to your will power and flesh. If it becomes toxic, such as ugliness coming out of your heart because of your craving, it is better to take care of the need than to injure others.

"Some of you are older, such as Mother Clare, in that case self-denial can be more difficult. I take all of this into consideration, I really do. There are no requirements for fasting if you are over your fifties or if you have any long-standing illnesses. These are constraining circumstances where you must apply wisdom and certainly provide for extraordinary needs.

"I look upon your hearts My Brides. I look there and wait to see how you are treating others, how do you think of your brothers and sisters. Are you merciful and kind or staunch and demanding leaving no room for the weaknesses of others? Mercy always trumps rules and regulations. Remember how the apostles ate from the grains in the field on the sabbath because they were hungry. May God help you never to become like the Pharisees of those days.

"Do your best, but love one another more than any penance or sacrifice. On this alone can you make it to Heaven." And that was the end of His message.

Well dear ones, the fact is, I was getting very weak and ended up breaking my abstinence for now. I had been struggling with very, very low energy for weeks, so I made some brownies with almond butter and dark chocolate chips and ate some of those, my energy went sky high and I got lots done. The next day I also ate these while finishing off an exceedingly hard organizing job which I had been walking around for two weeks. It looks like I am not going to be able to abstain the way I want to during lent because I have some deep computer organizing to do as well as my husband's room, but I will share with you when I have the grace to get back into a more Lenten diet. What I am focusing on though is refusing to criticize or complain about anything or anyone. This alone is a very substantial exercise to clean out my heart of murmuring. Dear God, deliver me from this terrible scourge of complaining. There is a direct correlation between fasting, low energy and complaining. So, for now I am focusing on my heart and mind to be pleasing to the Lord.

I pray that all of you will be comforted by my weakness and know that God can use us anyway but He hates murmuring and loves thanksgiving. So, that will be my fast, at least for now, until I can get the strength to deny my appetite as well.

God bless you dear ones, and thank you for your prayers and support. This promises to be a challenging Spring. May the Lord bless you all with the most wonderful graces and His tender love.

Gossip is Deadly

March 21st, 2023

Thank you for the grace to grow higher in Your ways, Lord, and let our words be Your words. Amen.

Mother Clare began, "Here I am Lord, worse for wear, defrauded of my quiet time. Yep, I fell for it."

"What I discussed with you Sunday, was not an issue with a married couple," Jesus replied, "It was an issue with the women in general who felt that the men, in general were not taking their needs of the moment seriously. As far as your relationship with your spouses, when the problem spills out onto the community and causes upset with others, then it is no longer just a personal matter."

Mother Clare continued, "Family, you cannot isolate your problems and say it should stay between the two of you, when it is impacting the community. There has to be accountability, if you see your brother or sister sinning, and turn a deaf ear, you are enabling and condoning bad conduct, and that makes you a party to the sin.

"There were several misunderstandings that led to gossip and strife later. Please in the future, when you disagree with something, tell your brother or sister so it can be worked out right then and there, unless it is too awkward. If I bring something forward and it offends you, look inside at your heart? Does it hurt because there is a grain of truth in it? Are you being defensive or covering the truth or is it totally unfounded? I really want to know.

"Some people are tender and easily offended. I apologize for being too hard sometimes, I still have a lot of pride and need retreading, for sure. I will try not to make you feel intimidated in the future. Please help me to trust, so that I can have feedback on my behavior or the way I say things. When I say something to you and you have a less than positive reaction, I really would like you to share that with me. I want to see things the way you see them too. It is really important to me that you don't hide things. You will rarely see me angry, if I am in the wrong, I will always apologize and try to repair the damage. You can really help me to be a better servant to your needs by sharing honestly. I like to see happy sheep in the pasture not head-butting sheep. It only takes one sheep to stir up the others and we know Satan is always the culprit behind our anger and hurt feelings.

"The devils try to plant a seed of bitterness in your heart so you will nourish a grudge and cop a hidden, but very toxic attitude in your heart. I don't want to be the cause of a root of bitterness...so please do me the kindness of letting me know.

"The Lord is going to bring increase, more people, and we need to have a very clear and well-defined way of communicating, or the ways of the world will come right in and spoil our environment. What is normal and acceptable in the world is not normal or acceptable in Our Lord's house, so please help us keep it holy.

"Please forgive me or any others who have hurt you. Sometimes we are not even aware of doing damage and it is good for us to find that out...we are all still learning, hopefully loving and learning...growing deeper in Our Lord's ways.

Jesus began speaking, "Satan will use male against female to divide the same way he uses different ethnic groups against each other if you will give him that ground. This has been all about spotting gossip, twisted communications and lies, sucker punches and creating a fatal split in the community. I want you all to see through the web of explanations and refuse to allow gossip or talking about others in your lives.

"Your angels withdraw from you when you do these things, that is why it opens doors for the enemy. Please do not grieve Me or My angels by your complaining and fault finding. Make this a true paradise for Me to rest My head, not a place I shun because of ingratitude and judgment.

"Please, keep this place clean from that influence, that I may continue to rest My Head upon your shoulders. In the world I have nowhere to go, even in monasteries, I find this bitterness. I want you to be set apart, a city on a hill, holy and without rancor. I am tired and need a place of rest for My Head. You are so beautiful to Me, stay clean, I beg of you."

"Lord, can I resign?"

"Is that really what you want?"

"I am beginning to wonder."

"No, you may not," Jesus continued, "You are learning too My Love, I think what I said to you earlier about gossip and complaining, was the crux of the issue. I will say it again, please My people do not gossip or downgrade one another, in private, or in community. Your angels run from such things. He who has ears to hear this, let him hear, as for the others, I will work with them on the level they can receive, but for those who do receive, please do not judge or slander one another. I hope I have made Myself clear. You can do no more than state this request, at this point, prayer is your only recourse. Let us move on now.

"What is said in private will be shouted from the roof tops. My children, always remember this, and let him who has no sin, throw the first stone. I have given you all so much, it is heart rending to see Satan at work among your members. Please lay down your swords and take up your plowshares, turn the soil of your own hearts over and water it with the tears of repentance, for the reaper is at the door and every idle word will be judged. Purify your hearts My people, lest you bring forth spoiled fruit. Clean out the dregs of rancor from your hearts and prepare your vessels to be filled with the choicest gifts, I have so much more I wish to entrust to you, but without humility I cannot.

"You all bear many wounds in your hearts. There are scabs of self-righteousness covering over these unresolved wounds. My Mother gave you an example to follow when she was serving in the temple. Look into the mirror and see how far, how distant, how remote you are from her virtue."

"Lord, please forgive me for my self-righteousness and need to be right. I know I am far from being sinless, very far, dear God help me. Oh Lord, please make me so secure in Your love and truth, that my heart will tend towards contrition instead of self-justification. I know I have not been the example that is needed and I trust You to bring that about, truly I do."

"Have no fear, our hearts are one on this topic. Just continue to allow yourself to be molded and find your greatest solace in self-effacement. This is the path you must walk on, and it is My joy to walk it with you My Bride. Be convinced that this is more precious to Me than all the gold and silver and gemstones on earth or in Heaven. Find your happiness in this place." And that was the end of His message.

God bless you dear Heartdwellers and may our words and thoughts for others be encouraging and edifying. Thank you, Lord, for guarding our hearts and minds. Amen!

Doers of My Heart

March 27th, 2023

Thank you, Lord, for clarifying in my heart the things that I struggle with, about knowing the Scriptures and doing the Scriptures. Thank You for clarifying it, and I pray that this message will get to everyone's heart, because it is the Lord's Heart, indeed, that we are talking about.

I came into prayer, I said Lord, I do not have anything, I feel so very empty. My husband always says, that is the time when the Lord works, is when you feel empty.

But the Lord had something nice to say. I had made a resolution about withdrawing the flesh from a few things and He said, "Thank you for making that resolution to withdraw your allegiance to the flesh. It will get in your way."

The flesh, that is.

"But I want to speak to you about the situation you were on the phone with a couple, with the wife, and this is a very important topic for the whole Body."

He began- Well, just to give you an idea what is going on here, there is a fundamental difference in their faith. I mean, they are agreed on the basics- they are both Christians, they are agreed on that- but she acknowledges the Great Cloud of Witnesses and that you can go to Hell if you are a Christian and you turn away from the Lord and you sin and what their church teaches does not teach that. They teach that once you are a Christian, you are saved, you are always saved.

And so there is a conflict in that and a conflict with the Great Cloud of Witnesses and the intercession of the saints and she is a very passionate young woman called to a beautiful work, no doubt about it, but it is going to take a long time to dig the foundation of humility, patience, meekness and longsuffering before she is ready to carry that kind of burden and that is what the Lord is working into her now, through her husband, really.

"So, she has a strong grip on what I want her to do in this moment," The Lord began. "The Body is very convoluted with a multitude of false teachings, but what one cannot dispute is the selfless dedication to the poor. What will convict more than words or doctrine is a heart of kindness and the works that come with it. I went about doing good, she has become My hands, My feet and a servant of selfless love dedicated to those crying out for Me. Focusing on THIS will eventually defeat every error."

"But they are not as important as peace in their marriage, truth will come at a cost and this tension between them, her heart ache, is part of the price that needs to be paid. Moral suffering can be very severe suffering, but she must exercise herself to let it go and commit her way to Me. I am doing something very special and unique in this marriage, which will unfold slowly with much difficulty. But understand there is a great work being done in both of their souls. The suffering is not in vain or for the City of God only. It is to refine them in the furnace of affliction."

"Eventually the truth will be known, but for now it can only be shown. All the attributes of My Godhead, which I came to Earth to demonstrate, go counter to the flesh that always wants to be right, that always wants to be intellectually superior, know more, understand more, have more knowledge. You have seen this over and over again; it is the way of the world. Walking in this way leaves you fruitless before God. It is a foundational fundamental error in thinking. Can anyone outsmart the devil? Yet he is the most evil creature alive. It is by humble service, kindness, meekness, brokenness that grace, true grace abounds.

"I am not saying that Bible study is futile, it is beautiful, substantial, regenerating and establishing you in right thinking."

Now I want to make a note here that her husband spends hours, and hours and hours studying the Scriptures as does his pastor. So, we are talking about eight hours being in the Scriptures commonly. So, boy- that sounds wonderful. That would be like paradise for me, out on vacation.

"So, I am not saying that Bible study is futile, it is beautiful, substantial, regenerating, and establishing you in right thinking. But without the Spirit of God, My Holy Spirit, interpreting, a soul can be led astray by pride, learning to interpret according to his or her culture and those who have gone before whom he looks up to. Dear one, the mind must be detached from all created beings before it can think as I think.

"Holiness lived is the Spirit of the Law. Not knowledge of intricate details, but knowledge of My Heart and love for mankind. The ugliness of the state of mankind verses the beauty of My written words, can easily draw a soul deeply into loving My Word but not wanting to get dirty and act on it.

"It is not what we know that makes us holy, it is what we do that proves our holiness. Do not forget about those fateful words I was compelled to speak to those who healed and cast out demons in My Name. 'Depart from Me, I never knew you.' So, you see, if the study of Scripture becomes your preoccupation, thinking you have made the grade by accumulating knowledge, you are woefully mistaken and will be shocked at the sentence I pronounce against you in that fateful hour.

"This is so common in the Body of Christ, this is why tremendous time is spent attending conferences, accumulating knowledge, when you should be on a street corner changing the dressings of a leper, taking food to poor families, praying for healings and giving until there is nothing in your life left to give. Many missionaries know this, they have seen that it is by their love that people are converted to Me. Knowledge can only go just so far, love and service penetrate to the heart, and bear lasting results.

"This is something for the whole Body to come to understand. It is written plainly in Scripture when those wealthy and famous ministers came to Me, and I had to say to them 'I never knew you.' They had all the good form of a faithful Christian, but they did not know My Heart. They stood on knowledge of the laws, by which no man can be justified. My Heart is mercy, kindness, compassion, all that is written has only been written to point you in your final destination, to My Heart. If your studies do not lead to that, truly, they are in vain.

"Not everyone will hearken to this teaching Clare, but those that do are Mine and I do know them. They have found their home in My Heart and from My Heart they minister love, authentic love, that leaves no room for themselves. I am so big in their hearts that they have no room whatsoever for the things of the world and the opinions of men.

'He went about doing good.' "Those are key words Beloved, and when a disciple of Mine refuses to serve in a soup kitchen because it would deprive them of their Bible study time, because that is more important to them than the poor, it is then that they are seriously led astray. What I finally want to say is that if you have read the Gospels and especially the Sermon on the Mount, you have found My Heart and it is time to put into practice what you have learned. Most who call themselves by My Name do not need more learning, they need to demonstrate what they have learned by doing what I have called them to do."

And that was the end of His message.

And take note, He is not putting down Bible studies, He is talking about balance and proportion. Once you fall in love with Jesus, all you want to do is what He wants you to do, what is in His heart, and I remember on one occasion there was a minister taking us to a conference and the person who was driving us saw a woman on the side of the road with a sign.

Well, we were already like a half an hour late for the conference, but he stopped, he pulled over and he stopped and he fed that woman who had children and did not have anything, and everyone in the car was very upset because they were wasting time, they wanted to get to the conference on time, they did not want to miss one of the speakers, right?

So, the atmosphere in the car changed totally, and it was very tense till we got where the conference was being held, then we found out that it had been postponed for an hour, right? It had been postponed for an hour. But whether it had or not, what was the most important value in that moment? To help that woman, who the Lord brought before us, or to be on time for the conference so we can -you know, if there is such a thing as 'gluttony of words, 'or concepts, and I love to read and I love knowledge, much to my dismay sometimes I am too curious.

So, he did the right thing. He pulled over and fed the woman.

So, that is what the Lord is talking about.

And my final prayer is Lord, help us please, help us to recognize what is important, and to lay down those things that are in vain in our lives.

Amen.

Love on Them, Love is Genuine

March 2nd, 2023

Father God, we offer this prayer against war and pray for America, for Your strength, guidance and intervention to end war. Amen.

Dear Family, here are some recent highlights from Mike from Around the World.

War will begin when Jerusalem and Washington DC are bombed, it will happen within one hour. Pockets of magma under oceans are boiling the water and changing the temperature affecting jet streams and causing mud slides. Iranian army aligned against Jerusalem, Russia providing Iran with bombs and hyper-sonic missiles carrying nukes. Foreign troupes at the border of Mexico. America will experience domestic terrorism by its own people. After war breaks out, we will be given a 35-hour warning to go to designated "safe areas" that have barbed wire facing the inside. These American government designated 'safe areas' for federal emergencies should be avoided at all costs.....you will enter and not come out.

Jesus began speaking, "Now that you know what is going on, what is approaching, I want you to pray for the unsaved that will be caught in this conflagration, an extensive fire which destroys a great deal of land and property. What is coming is more like a conflagration of souls.....it is that bad. Divide your prayers, praying for the valley and praying for the world. I am praying for the community and this step forward you are about to make will be monumental in its repercussions, and I don't mean all bad repercussions. I will guide you Clare and the community, every step of the way. Be not afraid, I have planned this for a very long time."

"That is so very comforting to hear Lord."

Jesus continued, "The people are hungry...or rather I should say emaciated and starving, hungry to know Me. They are ripe fruit just waiting to be picked, and some have even fallen on the ground rotting with no one to care. That is what you are to do, show and tell them how much you and I care. It's just that simple. You do not have to be a Bible teacher, they've had enough of that, what they haven't had is genuine love. As you give, I will pour more and more and more out upon each of you so that there will always be an anointing to heal, encourage and guide. You are all going to grow so much, it will be beautiful. Beware of those who want to join up in this work. Be very careful to discern whether they be sent from Me or the enemy. They will try to infiltrate and spoil things. This is what they have done with every ministry that comes along. You will know them by their darkness.

"Mostly the people are hungry for love and a real God that cares for them. Teach them how to hear from Me, how to journal and cry out to Me with straight talk, not fancy prayers. You will know who is for you and who is against you, they will stand out like a sore thumb. You are not there to solve all their problems, but to connect them with the One who can. You don't want them dependent on you, but dependent on Me. Learning the art of blessed humility, littleness, and turning always to Me for their needs and wants. They are used to getting help from men and systems, but not from Me. Your most important job will be to convince them of My love and that I provide according to their real needs, not what they think they need.

"Many are gun shy of people, especially outsiders and those who are different. They are used to agendas and recognize manipulation. Your only agenda is to help them form a deep relationship with Me. You are not there to tell them what to do, but to make suggestions on how you came about your relationship with Me. There are some very beautiful people in the area and a few could become saints."

"What about music there?"

"Yes, there will be time for that, but your first call is to really be present to them in a way they are not used to, like with respect, listening and making them feel wanted, not condemned. I think you are really going to enjoy this Beloved. You have been missing meaningful interactions in your life. You have been too isolated; they will inspire you as you focus on their needs in prayer. Love them, love on them, embrace them for Me, so they know for sure in their hearts that you really care about them. You have done well with your family, now it is time to branch out and touch those who are truly hungering for Me."

Just then I saw myself hugging an elderly woman, and there was such a sense of welcoming and sincerity.

"They long for prayers for their children," Jesus continued, "Many of whom have fallen into drug and alcohol abuse. The scars and pains run very deep in their hearts.....comfort them My people. This is a place for you to shine My deep love into their hearts. They are little ones, and almost everyone has been touched by witchcraft. Teach them that once they have a real connection with Me, they can rebuke the powers of the devils and they will be stopped, and yes, teach them discernment and the rules for keeping the doors closed. I want them to know that I am truly present in the rosary, not just some invisible thing they pray to. It should become very personal to them." And that was the end of His message.

In 1 John 4:11 we read, “Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another.” May the Lord bless you and guide you dear family as we are busy loving our neighbor and guiding them to Him.
