

Resurrection:

A new dimension will be bought forth onto this plane. One will note the differences amongst you all at this time.

-----

16 August 2006.

Greetings,

It is Indeed a pleasure to discuss with you at this time the subject of Resurrection.

It is indeed noted with great delight the many facets and aspects involved here. You would be wise to pursue the easiest route at this time until we deliberate further.

It is indeed a time when a soul must return to your Galaxy for the purpose of soul development.

It is decided when and where he will experience his lessons and whether he will enter at birth or make a change over during an entity's life. One has to experience a great deal to evolve, understand.

It has been said man's only perception of resurrection is Jesus. He fails to see that his own soul is resurrected on this plane many times over to experience the necessary lessons this plane has to offer.

As one's soul progresses one also appears on many other levels of existence using various modes of operandi to express the soul's development.

This plane provides the basic introduction to one's development and through the course of many light years will develop into an old soul then a sage ready to experience the next dimension and dimensions, understand.

Because man has trouble comprehending this, it is hardly touched upon on your plane. It must be said also that many eons ago man had little or no understanding of a soul's journey and could not comprehend this energy.

Man has now come to the recognition of energy and is indeed learning its many facets at this time.

In the future man will be able to exchange his vehicles of expression upon this plane for the purpose of experience. Man will also come to recognise when he must change vehicles for the next expression. He will learn to see when one vehicle is ready to expire and not be saddened by this as he will rejoice as he will understand the next level of experience.

It is not an end cycle as man perceives but a continuing cycle. Man will only perceive what he has chosen to see at a given time and also at the level of his soul's development understand.

It is said that there are many levels upon your plane at this time, all experiencing their own requirements of development.

Some are also here to aid upon this plane to teach the many whom have become stuck, understand.

In Love and Light.

Amen
