

McPhail, Herlanda

Herlanda Lydia "Ewald" McPhail died Sunday, September 8, 2003, after a lengthy illness. Mrs. McPhail was a life long resident of Huron County and married Jay D. McPhail who died in 1947. She never remarried, but began her career of teaching at Little Turner Canboro and Pigeon Elementary School until she retired. She received her degree from Central Michigan University. Herlanda was survived by her daughters, Roberta Clark, of Elkton, Margaret Miller, of Annapolis, Maryland.; son, Roger and his wife, Jeannie, of Cass City; sister, Mrs. Naomi Shuart, of Bad Axe; many loving grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces and nephews; and sister-in-law, Margaret (McPhail) Finzel resides in Florida. The family wishes to thank Jan and Pearl who cared for her in her home with devoted nursing care. In addition, our appreciation is extended to everyone that touched her life in a caring, loving manner in medical care or friendship.
