What is Juneteenth?

Juneteenth is the oldest known celebration commemorating the end of slavery in the United States. Dating back to 1865, it was on June 19th that the Union soldiers, led by Major General Gordon Granger, landed at Galveston, Texas with news that the war had ended and the enslaved were now free. Note that this was two and a half years after President Lincoln's Proclamation – which had become official January 1, 1863. The Emancipation Proclamation had little impact on the Texans due to the minimal number of Union troops to enforce the new Executive order. However, with the surrender of General Lee in April of 1865, and the arrival of General Granger's regiment, the forces were finally strong enough to influence and overcome the resistance.

To celebrate this historical event, African Americans celebrate Juneteenth with a celebration of family, friends, community, and freedom. The purpose of the Juneteenth event is to recognize the great contributions and historic achievements of African Americans, to address solidarity in the African American community, and to address and create a space for African Americans to make proactive choices in the face of national concerns impacting the African American families including education, health and wellness, substance abuse, violence, and economic stability.

Juneteenth in Vallejo

In Vallejo, the African American community continues to celebrate the tradition of Juneteenth in the same spirit. The Vallejo Juneteenth Celebration, entitled African American Family Reunion Celebration, was modeled after the celebration adopted by the National Council of Negro Women. The Vallejo chapter of the National Council of Negro Women, one of the original sponsoring organizations, continues to participate in the planning of this celebration with many other organizations and partners including the Continental of Omega Boys and Girls Club, and the local chapters of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated and Jack and Jill of America, Incorporated. These organizations, which are concerned with the well-being and camaraderie of Vallejo and Solano County's African American community, continue to support the success of the Vallejo Juneteenth Celebration each year.

The Juneteenth Planning Committee comes together each year to provide a peaceful, engaging fun, festive and entertaining atmosphere to connect attendees and participants to local organizations that provide health screenings and wellness information as well as employment and educational opportunities. This year we are partnering with representatives from various health organizations to provide free health information and medical screenings for attendees.

In addition to the comprehensive information and education about health and wellness, we are inviting community/civic organizations, businesses, social and religious groups to participate.
