

Business Recovery Financing

IAPO is pleased to offer Business Recovery Financing (BRF) to eligible First Nations businesses affected by the COVID 19 pandemic. Funding, which extends until March 31, 2023, is provided through the Indigenous Economic Development Fund by the Ministry of Indigenous Affairs.

How much financing is available?

Up to $50,000 is available for eligible small and medium sized First Nations businesses recovering from the COVID-19 pandemic. Business Recovery Financing is comprised of a 50% grant and 50% repayable financing.

What can BRF be used for?

- funds may be used by businesses to cover general expenses such as payroll, rent, utilities and taxes.
- funds may also be used towards increasing production capacity, developing new products, moving to online marketing, or to make improvements to accommodate social distancing requirements, such as the installation of plexiglass barriers.

Project Eligibility

To be eligible for Business Recovery Financing, applicants must:

- Demonstrate how the Covid-19 pandemic has affected their business,
- Demonstrate clear project-specific need as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic,
- Demonstrate the potential for the business to recover from the Covid 19 pandemic,
- Confirm that other available sources of financing from public and private sources are either not available or are limited in terms of availability, funding levels, or based on their specific criteria,
- Confirm as to why the project cannot be funded without BCF support. Applicants with the financial means to fund the project are not eligible.

Who is Eligible to Apply?

Eligible First Nations Businesses can apply to IAPO for Business Recovery Financing. An eligible First Nation business is defined as a business registered in Ontario that is majority owned (i.e., at least 51%) by First Nation person or people. A joint venture or consortium is also considered a First Nation business if it is majority owned (i.e., at least 51%) by the First Nation partner(s). For eligibility, applicants must be Status.

BRF is available to support qualified First Nations farm and agribusinesses across Ontario. As well, BRF is available to support qualified First Nations businesses in all sectors in East Central and Eastern Ontario.
