December 2007

French Lick Town Green

I am very excited to announce that we have received a letter of intent to award this project to our company. This will be a beautiful high profile building across from the French Lick Resort Casino in the heart of downtown French Lick.

This building will be a lasting legacy for all that work on it for many years to come.

Bids accepted from other companies include:
Electrical - Weyer Electric
Mechanical - D.E.Q. Inc.
Plumbing - R&S Plumbing
Elevator - ThyssenKrupp

I am excited for us and our community with each passing year to see all the positive changes affecting Orange County and the surrounding areas. We are truly on our way to becoming a destination people won't want to miss.

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT ... Cletus Rasche, Jr.

Cletus Rasche, Jr. is our first employee spotlight for the month of December. Cletus has been employed with Lindsey's Construction since October 2006.

Cletus has four children: Tara Anderson, Neil Rasche, Andy Rasche, & Robert Rasche.

Cletus also has 9 grandchildren to keep him busy. They are Skyler Anderson, 17; Logan Blackgrave, 14; Krya Anderson, 10; Ashley Kapp, 17; Kaylynn Rasche, 9; Carrisa Rasche, 8; Braden Rasche, 20 months; Hanna Rasche, 4; and Nevaeh Rasche 1 month.

Cletus enjoys hunting, fishing and gardening in his spare time.

EMPLOYMENT ANNIVERSARIES

8 Years - Mike Lagenour
2 Years - Dan Knies

I would again like to express congratulations and best wishes to Harold "Shorty" Land and Donald "Buck" Pinnick for being a couple of great employees. Each have decided to take other opportunities.

Best Wishes

Shorty is going to Kimballs and Buck is going to the Resort.

We wish them all the best and hope they stop and see us from time to time.

First Aid

It's an excellent idea for construction workers and for everyone to know first aid fundamentals: how to stop bleeding, start breathing, start a stopped heart, and give any other vitally needed care until professional help arrives.

Whether or not you've had any first aid training, you should know this principle that is too often forgotten in many emergencies: DON'T MOVE ANYONE WHO APPEARS TO BE SERIOUSLY INJURED. Well-meaning people often have the impulse to hoist an accident victim to a sitting position, or pointlessly move them from here to there...or from there to here.

The victim of a bad fall, or of some other accident on your project, might have internal injuries or a fractured spine; if so, trying to move him needlessly might aggravate the injury—might permanently cripple, or even kill them!

Wait until experts arrive who will transport the victim to a hospital with a minimum of danger. If the person must be moved to save them from additional danger, try to work a blanket or coat under them, then pull them gently along the ground to a safe location. If they must be lifted, support each part of his body so that his entire frame is kept in a straight line.

Good first aid is not only knowing what to do—how to stop excessive bleeding, or restore breathing; it's also knowing what not to do—not to move a seriously injured person unless absolutely necessary.

So if someone is ever seriously hurt on the job, see that professional help is called right away—then see that what needs to be done is done...and that what needs not be done isn't done.

EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT ... Kevin Allstott

For the final newsletter of 2007, we are shining the spotlight on Kevin Allstott.

Kevin has been employed here since April 2006.

Kevin and his wife of 32 years, Kathy have 4 children: Mike, 27; Jake 26; Luke; 19 and Zeke; 18. They also have two grandchildren: Gracie, 2 & Noah, 4 months.

Some of Kevin's hobbies include tracing family genealogy, watching science fiction shows and listening to loud music.

Kevin thought his co-workers would be surprised to know that he was born in Dr. Sugarman's office in downtown French Lick.

Project Updates

Lindsey's Construction

American Buildings Company usually makes few mistakes, but on our own building there have been several. We now have the right roofing, but they failed to get additional siding ordered and they have failed to get the correct ridge cap & trim. As of last week, all is ordered. This is all very aggravating as we had planned to make our move in December & this also impacts our schedule on other work. Hopefully things will start coming together.

T&M French Lick Resort Casino

No end in site. I have been uneasy about this work from the beginning in relationship to how long it would last. We started with 4 or 5 men and now are up to 8 or 9 men with permanent I.D. cards and a drop box for work orders. I believe this arrangement is working well for the hotel and everyone involved.

SV Hardware - Addition

As everyone has seen, the building is here. With three new hires we should be able to keep our new building and this building going at the same time. I would hope to be able to move at the first of the year.

JSI - Barrel Dock

We should finish this job Monday the 26th weather permitting and that is a month earlier than the owner requested. They are now talking to me about a fire/dust wall to separate the spray finish areas. I gave them some options and they are taking them under advisement.

Larry Bird Home Renovations

I had hoped to meet with the owners this weekend but was under the weather. I think the work is going well and hope that they are pleased with what they see. I expect they may have some new ideas about what needs to be done.
