F-100-F

FORGEWOODS . . . the finest wooden arrow made. Select Port Orford Cedar compressed to 78% of its original diameter and carefully matched in weight and spine to give consistently high performance.

Slim diameter of only 5/32" for most bow weights provides maximum stability of flight, greater penetration, and flatter trajectory.

Fitted with a short nose, taper hole field point and fletched with all select white and white dyed feathers. Beautiful four color cresting and satin luster lacquer finish.

Available up to 31" draw length for bows 25 to 75 pounds.

- Standard three feather fletch $21.00 dozen
- Four feather fletch 1.50 additional

B-100-F

BATTLESHAFTS . . . the standard grade of Forgewoods. Compressed cedar shafts fitted with short nose, taper hole field points and finished with a satin luster lacquer finish.

Carefully spiral fletched with select grade white and jet black feathers. Crested to match in attractive three color pattern.

Available up to 31" draw length for bows 25 to 75 pounds.

$17.00 dozen

U-100-F

Utility grade compressed cedar shafts. The same compressed cedar as used in Forgewoods and Battleshafts, but held to less critical matching standards.

Fitted with short nose field points and crested in a two color pattern. Spiral fletching with select grade feathers.

The Utility arrow provides the archer with an excellent field or hunting arrow at the same cost of regular Port Orford Cedar.

Available up to 30" draw length for bows 30 to 65 pounds.

- Standard fletch $13.75 dozen
- Clear feather fletch75 additional

A-150

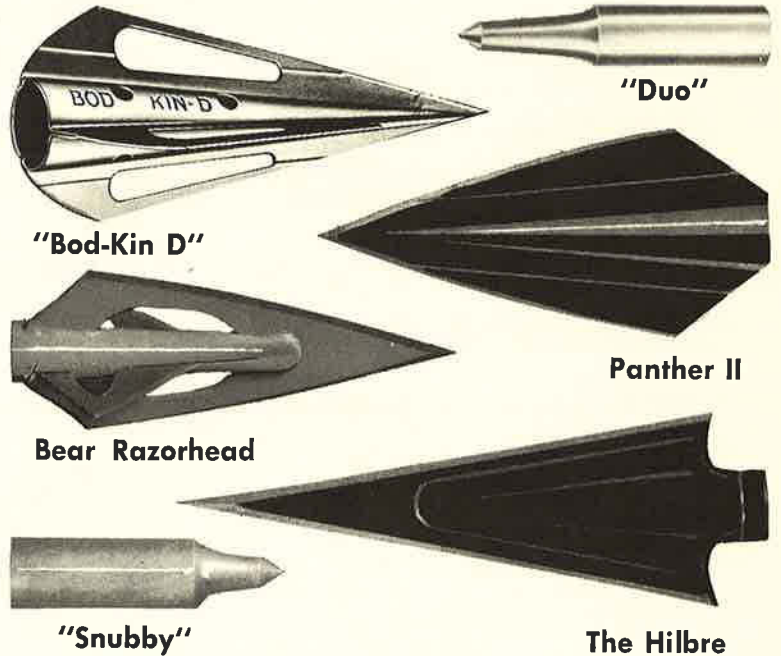

Our finest Port Orford Cedar arrow. Carefully matched and finished to please the most discriminating archer.

Spiral fletching of select white and dyed white feathers, plus an attractive three color crest, assures an arrow of beauty as well as performance.

Available in 5/16" for bows to 45 pounds and 1/32" for heavier bow weights.

Lengths from 24 to 29" for bows to 70 pounds.
