

FADE 2017 Higher Education Scholarship and Professional Development Award Winners

Toni McLeroy received the 2017 Dental Hygiene Section Higher Education Scholarship. She is currently an Assistant Professor at State College of Florida in Bradenton, Florida. She is attending Idaho State University's Master's in Dental Hygiene program and plans to graduate in December 2018.

Deborah Quesinberry received the Dental Assisting Section Higher Education Scholarship. She is currently teaching full time in the Dental Assisting Program at Pasco-Hernando State College in New Port Richey, Florida and is also a part-time adjunct in the Dental Hygiene program as well. She is pursuing a Master's degree in Instructional Leadership from St. Leo University.

Shankisha Sizemore received a FADE Professional Development Award. She is currently an adjunct instructor in the Dental Hygiene Program at State College of Florida in Bradenton, Florida. She teaches the General and Oral Pathology course there. This award helped her attend the University of Florida's 14th Annual Oral Pathology Symposium held in Orlando, Florida.

