

Magic in the Air

I think there's magic in the air tonight.
So, pull up a chair and turn out the lights.
Don't be afraid,
But get excited.
I think there's magic in the air tonight.

There will be hindu wands,
Magic carpets, rings and things.
And, you never know what other miracles the night may bring.

There will be sleight of hand,
Puffs of smoke,
And things that go bump in the night.
And, Houdini has promised
To disappear before our very eyes.

I think there's magic in the air tonight.
So, pull up a chair and turn out the lights.
Don't be afraid,
But get excited.
I think there's magic in the air tonight.

Well, it just might be that tonight is the night of tomorrow.

Blackstone and Thurston will marvel you
With tricks extraordinaire.
And, if they're leading you up a blind alley
Will you even care?

I think there's magic in the air tonight.
So, pull up a chair and turn out the lights.
Don't be afraid,
But get excited.
I think there's magic in the air tonight.
