from the Pastor's Desk

1 Corinthians 15:1-2

"Now I would remind you, brothers and sisters, of the good news that I proclaimed to you, which you in turn received, in which also you stand, through which also you are being saved, if you hold firmly to the message that I proclaimed to you—unless you have come to believe in vain."

I Am A Christian

When I say, "I am a Christian," I'm not shouting, "I'm clean living." I'm whispering, "I was lost, now I'm found and forgiven."
When I say, "I am a Christian," I don't speak of this with pride, I'm confessing that I stumble and need CHRIST to be my guide.
When I say, "I am a Christian," I'm not trying to be strong, I'm professing that I'm weak and need HIS strength to carry on.
When I say, "I am a Christian," I'm not bragging of success; I'm admitting I have failed and need GOD to clean my mess.
When I say, "I am a Christian," I'm not claiming to be perfect, My flaws are far too visible, but GOD believes I'm worth it.
When I say, "I am a Christian," I still feel the sting of pain; I have my share of heartaches, so I call upon HIS name.
When I say, "I am a Christian," I'm not holier than thou; I'm just a simple sinner who received GOD's good grace somehow.

This poem, attributed to Maya Angelou, is what in Christian circles is called an "apology". According to the Westminster Dictionary of Theological Terms an apology is "a statement speaking in defense of" or "a reasoned defense of a particular view." This statement of faith could be seen as defending what I perceived to be true about the Christian faith in the world today. The truth is, we, as Christians, are to lean upon God and trust that his grace will prevail.

I received an internet forward about a preacher whose prayer was simply, "Lord, prop us up on our leanin' side." Every time he was asked to pray, he'd pray, "Lord, prop us up on our leanin' side." After hearing him pray that prayer many times someone asked him why he prayed that prayer so fervently. He answered, "Well sir, you see, it's like this... I got an old barn out back. Its's been there a long time, it's withstood a lot of weather; it's gone through a lot of storms, and it's stood for many years.

"It's still standing. But one day I noticed it was leaning to one side a bit. So, I went and got some pine poles and propped it up on its leaning side so it wouldn't fall. Then I got to thinking about that and how much I was like that old barn. I've been around a long time. I've withstood a lot of life's storms. I've withstood a lot of bad weather in life, I've withstood a lot of hard times, and I'm still standing too. But I find myself leaning to one side from time to time, so I like to ask the Lord to prop us up on our leaning side, 'cause I figure a lot of us get to leaning at times.

"Sometimes we get to leaning toward anger, leaning toward bitterness, leaning toward hatred, leaning toward cussing, leaning toward a lot of things that we shouldn't. So, we need to pray, 'Lord prop us up on our leaning side, so we will stand straight and tall again, to glorify the Lord.'"

In which direction do you find yourself leaning these days? I pray it is on God's good grace.

I hope to see you in church on Sunday. Know that I'm just a phone call, text or email away. I'm in the office most Tuesday and Thursday mornings until 2 p.m. The number there is 814-833-4062, or you can just drop in. My cell phone number is 724-557-2386, please leave a message if I don't answer. pastorkaren.immanuel@gmail.com

Giving of their Talents

Just like Tabitha gave of her gifts to her community, many people at your church give their gifts to make today's worship experience great. Look at the pictures below and circle the scene if you see people in worship using their gifts in these ways.

Someone reading out loud

Someone singing

Someone dancing

Someone preaching

Someone playing a musical instrument

Someone giving offering

How could you share your gifts in church today?

FAITH

The Social Ministry committee will once again be asking members to sponsor the cost of personal care kits for Lutheran World Relief. The personal care kits include a towel, 2 bars of soap, a toothbrush, comb, and nail clippers.

The cost of each kit is $8 which includes the cost of shipping and toothpaste which LWR supplies. Due to specific size requirements and needs to clear customs, the social ministry will purchase the items and prepare kit for shipping. Please consider sponsoring one or more kits. This year's goal is 75 kits. Please label your donation as care kit and place in the offering plate or mail to the church office. Monetary donations will be collected the month of May. Thank you for your support of this mission.

Dear Cindy and Friends at Immanuel Lutheran,

14 April 2022

Thank you for your generous donation of another sewing machine, which were received on 04-14-2022 at the Erie Field Office of the U.S. Committee for Refugees and Immigrants (USCRI Erie). Enclosed is a more detailed / itemized receipt with an estimation of the fair market value of your donations for your records.

Our mission is to protect the rights and address the needs of persons in forced or voluntary migration worldwide and support their transition to a dignified life. Since our founding as the International Institute over 100 years ago, USCRI Erie has resettled refugees and immigrants in the greater Erie region, redirecting the destiny of vulnerable people for generations into the future.

Different Decades, Same Spirit

Your donation helps USCRI Erie to provide new families with the resources, expert resettlement services, and support they need to start new lives in a safe and stable environment. This is more important than ever, as refugee resettlement levels are returning to traditional levels, with a large increase from the arrival of America's Afghan allies. If you would like to stay connected to our work, here are a few simple ways to be engaged:

- Follow us on Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/uscrierie/>
- Follow us on Twitter for national advocacy efforts: @uscridc
- Subscribe to our monthly USCRI Erie newsletter: Read client stories and stay up to date on happenings at USCRI Erie. The stories are short and photos plentiful. To subscribe, just fill out the quick form at: <http://eepurl.com/hFk7sP>

RAIN GARDENS TO LESSEN THE IMPACT OF STORMWATER RUNOFF

There is no denying that humans alter the landscape, leading to more stormwater runoff. Stormwater picks up pollutants carrying them to local streams and rivers. Increased stormwater increases the risk of flooding, decreases infiltration and groundwater recharge and increases the cost of water treatment. Property owners can make small changes to help curb the growing stormwater problem.

Homeowners can install best management practices (BMPs) on their property to help lessen the impact of stormwater. Rain gardens, bioswales, rain barrels, pervious pavement and green roofs are examples of various BMPs. This article will discuss rain gardens. Rain gardens are bowl-shaped gardens designed to capture water, allowing it to soak into the ground. They can drain water from roof downspouts, driveways, walkways or other impervious surfaces. They slow and reduce the amount of runoff from your property, while adding a lovely garden feature that reaps the following benefits: flood reduction, pollutant removal, groundwater protection, enhanced wildlife habitat and improved aesthetics.

A rain garden must be designed and installed with careful consideration or you may create more problems. First look at the topography, take a walk in the rain and study water flow on your property. Look for low, flat areas with a maximum slope of 10-12%. Choose a location that gets runoff from a roof downspout or other impervious surface and ask your municipality for specific ordinances. A rain garden should be constructed at least 10 feet from a foundation, 50 feet from a septic system, and 100 feet from a well. Before you dig, always call PA One Call at 8-1-1 or 800-242-1776 to locate underground utility lines. Be sure to avoid tree roots, utilities and engineered stormwater management structures.

Know your soil type. Avoid areas with soils that are permanently or periodically waterlogged. Once constructed, ponding depth should be less than 12 inches; 4-8 inches is best. Water should drain from the site in less than 24 hours after a rain event. Drainage in 2-4 hours is preferred. A percolation test should be done to ensure adequate drainage. If the site does not drain well, the soil will need to be amended.

How do you determine the size of your rain garden? It's important to place your garden where it will collect as much runoff as possible. If you are directing a downspout into the garden, there is a simple calculation you can use. Measure the footprint of your house. Estimate how much of the roof area is actually draining into the downspout. Then, divide the area by six. This sizes the garden to hold one inch of roof runoff into a garden that is six inches deep. To learn more about creating and managing a rain garden to control stormwater on your property, go to <https://extension.psu.edu/rain-gardens>. By making changes upstream, we can all play a part in improving water quality. <https://extension.psu.edu/rain-gardens-the-basics>

Choose native plants suitable to the area based on soil, sunlight and location in the garden. The plants must be able to tolerate variable moisture conditions. The lowest part of the garden is the settling basin. For this area, choose plants that can tolerate inundation. The transition zone includes the lower and upper slopes of the garden. Soil dries out faster on the slopes, so plants in this zone should be able to tolerate drier conditions. Select plants with a variety of shape, color, height and bloom time to maximize the benefits for wildlife, including pollinators. Also consider choosing a plant with some evergreen leaves to prevent soil erosion in winter months. Check out <https://extension.psu.edu/rain-gardens-the-plants>
