California Mega Millions win

The winner of the $1.2-billion lottery jackpot — a player who beat the odds by matching all six numbers drawn in the December 2024 Mega Millions—was named on Monday, March 17, 2025. The winner, identified as Rosemary Casarotti by California lottery officials, who are required under state law to publicly identify the winners, purchased the winning ticket at Sunshine Food and Gas at 3505 Rhonda Road in Cottonwood on Dec. 27, officials said. The lottery offered no biographical details about Casarotti, who opted not to be present during the announcement. She chose to take the lump sum of her winnings, which will amount to more than $570 million. The jackpot was California's largest Mega Millions prize in history, according to the lottery. The odds of drawing all five of the winning numbers and the Mega number were at 1 out of 302.5 million. Prior to the December win, the jackpot had been won only three times in 2024, the fewest wins in any single year since the game began in 2002. At the time, the jackpot had been growing since Sept. 10, when a player won an $810-million prize from a ticket sold at a gas station in Texas. The prior $6-billion-plus jackpots have all been won in different states — South Carolina in 2018, Michigan in 2021, Illinois in 2022, Maine and Florida in 2023 and New Jersey in March, according to the lottery. The game's highest jackpot of any state at $1.6 billion was won in Florida in 2023.

Luckiest Lotto player ever?

With seven state-sponsored lottery wins to his name, the odds are that Richard Lustig may hold the title of Luckiest Lottery Player for a long time. Lustig passed away in 2018 at age 67, after penning a book, Learn How to Increase Your Chances of Winning the Lottery. Lustig was an entertainment booking agent from Orlando, Florida who gained fame for his string of lottery wins from 1993 to 2010. On his site, a bio about Lustig states he was a former professional drummer who spent many years touring the country before he became an agent, and that he loved his work but was always anxious to hit the road on his Harley. "Obviously it's changed my life big time," Lustig told Time in January 2016, adding "I've been rich and I've been poor, and I like rich a whole lot better. We've lived in big, fancy houses. I drive a Jaguar. We've gone on cruises. I can't complain." Here are his wins, and tips for winning.

- January 1993: $10,000 from a scratch-off ticket.
 - August 1997: $13,696.03 from a Florida Lottery Fantasy 5 ticket.
 - In June 2000: Wheel of Fortune holiday trip to Los Angeles valued at $3,594.66 on a scratch-off ticket second chance drawing.
 - October 2001: Elvis Presley holiday trip to Memphis, Tennessee valued at $4,966 on another scratch-off ticket's 2nd chance drawing.
 - January 2002: $842,152.91 from Mega Money, now known as Mega Millions.
 - November 2008: $73,658.06 from a Fantasy 5 ticket.
 - August 2010: $98,992.92 from a Fantasy 5 ticket.
- Winning Tips:
- Never change your numbers, and never miss a drawing in that particular game
 - Never play with money you can't afford to lose
 - Don't use Quick Picks
 - Go beyond birthdays
 - Understand the odds

Bally's offers Bronx citizens benefits

According The New York Post the company vying to open a casino in The Bronx in New York City really wants neighbors to have a vested interest in the proposed gaming facility. Bally's is offering residents the opportunity to buy shares in the casino that would be located adjacent to its golf course at Ferry Point, formerly operated by President Trump's firm. That's right—stocks, not just chips. Bally's also is pledging that at least 1% of its gross revenues from the casino will go to community benefits programs in The Bronx—more than $10 million a year or $100 million over 10 years—if it is awarded a coveted license. But one of the most attractive features of the community benefits package is that Bronx residents can also invest in the casino, owning, likely, up to 10% of the gaming facility, said Bally's Corp chairman Soo Kim. Customers could be able to invest as little as $250 and get leverage from the Bally's Foundation, so that if the casino performs well, they can make many multiples of their money. Kim is using the same economic model at his Chicago casino that is expected to open in 2026. At least 11 bidders are jockeying to win at least three coveted casino licenses that will be awarded by the state Gaming Commission at the end of this year.

Casino cheating scams of the year

A recent story on CDCGaming.com covers the vote taken at the end of the annual World Game Protection Conference. The 500 or so attendees, most of them casino surveillance and security professionals, select the top eight cheating scams of the past year. The number-one scam in 2024 was a baccarat ploy that involves a colluding dealer having the cheating player cut the cards, scraping a fingernail across the corners to reveal the index numbers of a sequence to a hidden camera, then leaving the table to review the sequence and returning to bet on the inside knowledge. Other hidden-camera scams ranked number two and counterfeit chips number three. You can read the whole story online at www.cdccgaming.com.

Billions in wage theft

A recent study conducted by Rutgers and Northwestern universities has found that $2.4 billion in wages has been stolen from 40,000 Nevada workers over the past 20 years by employers illegally paying them below the minimum wage. Each worker lost $3,000 per year (nearly 20% of their correct income), adding up to $122 million per year. The most susceptible workers to minimum-wage theft were found to be women, people of color, non-citizens, individuals with less education, and those aged 18 to 24.

ARIES (MAR 21-APR 20): What does it mean to align the head with the heart? Thoughtful emotions? Logical feelings? Sure, why not? This is a great month to discover the power that comes when intellect and devotion come together. Clarity of thought supports purity of heart. How beautiful! Lucky Days: 11 - 20
Lucky Numbers: 44 - 59

TAURUS (APR 21-MAY 21): This month involves puzzles and paradoxes. It's time to shed any negative thinking that holds you back. The more you resist change, the more difficult it will be to get back on your feet after this period concludes. Welcome the radical and the new. Lucky Days: 3 - 13
Lucky Numbers: 32 - 38

GEMINI (MAY 22-JUN 21): Ask yourself which you'd rather have in your life right now: more adventure or more security. If you feel immobilized because you can't decide, well, that's the point. You need to hold still and concentrate on which direction will serve you better going forward into the year. Lucky Days: 5 - 15
Lucky Numbers: 20 - 44

CANCER (JUN 22-JUL 22): The full Moon on the 12th brings out the entertainer in you. You're being prepared for a significant cycle shift that starts when Jupiter enters your sign next month. The world is ready for you to step out of your shell and engage with a broader circle of people. Celebrate. Lucky Days: 5 - 10
Lucky Numbers: 3 - 33

LEO (JUL 23-AUG 23): The extra lilt of energy you're feeling requires some thoughtful guidance. You don't want to overstep boundaries and irritate the wrong people. Yes, optimism feels fantastic, but not if it comes at the expense of putting someone else down. Meter yourself and win. Lucky Days: 25 - 27
Lucky Numbers: 4 - 59

VIRGO (AUG 24-SEP 23): You're about ready to exit one of the more oppressive periods of your life. To prepare for this well-deserved freedom, put your house in order. This is an excellent time to relinquish or recycle. Surely, items you are tired of would make a big difference for someone less fortunate. Lucky Days: 3 - 28
Lucky Numbers: 2 - 47

LIBRA (SEP 24-OCT 23): Like the old Greeks, you seek the Good, the True, and the Beautiful in life. This month opens the door to an entirely new expression of your pursuit. The harshness of reality might feel more exaggerated now, so find ways to temper and balance your expectations. Lucky Days: 9 - 19

Lucky Numbers: 38 - 55

SCORPIO (OCT 24-NOV 22): The full Moon in your sign on the 12th emphasizes the importance of "walking softly but carrying a big stick." Do a bit of self-analysis to see what is agitating your nervous system with such intensity. It most likely relates to your desire for more freedom. If so, make way for it. Lucky Days: 6 - 7
Lucky Numbers: 11 - 22

SAGITTARIUS (NOV 23-DEC 21): You're not the nervous type, but lately, you might have lost faith in some of your strongest beliefs. But don't fret—welcome this period of self-questioning; you're on the verge of a new set of insights that will carry you far into the rest of the year. Lucky Days: 11 - 29
Lucky Numbers: 4 - 40

CAPRICORN (DEC 22-JAN 20): The full Moon on the 12th reveals an excellent strategy that will help with promotion. This involves making what you are advancing more attractive to people. This insight can apply to all aspects of your life, from work to home life to one-on-one relationships. Lucky Days: 8 - 18
Lucky Numbers: 3 - 16

AQUARIUS (JAN 21-FEB 19): The poet Alexander Pope wrote: "Order is heaven's first law." If you long for soothing vibes in your life, think of ways to organize your life so it brings more symmetry into your routine. Challenge any tendency to procrastinate. Remember, sometimes good enough is better than perfect. Lucky Days: 5 - 18
Lucky Numbers: 5 - 55

PISCES (FEB 20-MAR 20): The full Moon on the 12th poses an important question: How to increase your curiosity? There is an interesting correspondence between inquiry and how we express ourselves creatively. The more we question, the more we can communicate hidden parts of our nature. Lucky Days: 5 - 15

DEAR PAWS: Why are so many people opting for small, yappy dogs these days instead of big dogs? That seems to be all I see when folks walk their dogs around here. A small dog won't protect you or your home. — Bobby T., Oak Ridge, Tennessee

DEAR BOBBY: While it may seem that most dog owners are choosing smaller breeds, the number of small vs. large dogs varies greatly depending on where you live.

The American Kennel Club, for example, annually lists the most popular dogs by number of registrations per breed. In 2023, the French bulldog was the most popular registered breed in the U.S. However, among the top 10 breeds, only four — including the French bulldog, Dachshund, Beagle and Bulldog — could be classified as "small." The remaining six most popular dogs, including the Rottweiler, Golden Retriever and German Short-haired Pointer, are all large breeds.

Not all U.S. households that own dogs have registered breeds, of course, The American Veterinary Medical Association in 2024 reported that just under half of U.S. households own dogs, while 32.1% are cat owners. So, while the French bulldog may be the most popular AKC-registered pet, that statistic doesn't take into account all of the dogs that are being walked through their neighborhoods nationwide.

Security-wise, having a dog of any size can be a deterrent for potential intruders (or attackers). Large breeds, often gentle giants, can deter people with bad intentions easily, but smaller breeds should not be underestimated.

* Try prep cooking once a week for as many elements of that week's meals as possible. Chop veggies, saute or even brown meats for casseroles or prep slow cooker bags. Veterans Post

The VA in the news

So much is going on right now. With the new administration making many changes on a daily basis across the federal government, some of those changes were sure to affect the Department of Veterans Affairs. Here is one thing that has happened: The VA let go 1,000 employees.

For the most part they were probationary employees (deemed non-mission critical) with less than one year on the job or those in another employment category who had worked for less than two years.

This 1,000 is out of the 43,000 probationary employees they didn't fire because they were mission critical and out of a total of 473,000 employees at the VA. One year ago the VA had planned to reduce their numbers by 10,000 employees in 2025. Then there are the many thousands who took the deferred resignation offer, which will allow them to stay home and still be paid through September. So the 1,000 fewer employees isn't a massive number.

The financial bottom line from this recent move is that $98 million was saved, money that will be plowed back into services and benefits for veterans, per Secretary Doug Collins.

While this move was effective immediately, there is a catch: Management can ask that certain employees not be terminated to ensure that the work can go on, that benefits and services aren't effected.

Rumor has it that some of the employees who were let go had handled the phones at the suicide crisis line. A senator stepped in and asked that two of the employees be reinstated.

While it might be a bit unnerving to see cuts at the VA for the benefits and services we depend on, I say we should just wait it out and not let panic set in. We have a new VA secretary, and for now we should trust him to fight for what's right for us, despite all the loud naysayers who excel at stirring up anxiety. I think it will all be OK.

Blueberry apple butter

Dear Readers,

Some years ago, I shared my husband's crockpot/canning recipe for apple butter. The following letter came in follow up to that column, and I can't wait to try it—it sounds absolutely delicious! Much gratitude and good wishes to Joy for sharing this recipe!

P.S. Donald's original canning process is noted below Joy's recipe. — Annie

Dear Annie,

I was delighted to see the apple butter crockpot recipe from your husband in the Bingo Bugle. Another crockpot butter-jam I make every year is blueberry-apple butter. One extra nice thing about using sweet apples is that one does not have to use sugar, therefore you have a naturally sweet butter jam that is very tasty and healthy to boot. Both apples and blueberries are two of our most nutritionally beneficial fruits. And another bonus? Blueberry-apple butter jam is one of the most expensive on store shelves when it is all-natural with no sugar preservatives. Here's the recipe.

P.S. Love your articles and recipes in the Bingo Bugle, have clipped them religiously and have a notebook full of them stapled into it! — Joy N., Kaizer, Oregon

BLUEBERRY-APPLE BUTTER JAM

4-6 sweet apples, peeled and cored
¾ c. water
4-5 lb. fresh or frozen blueberries
½ tsp. sea salt
½ lemon or lime, juiced

Using a 5-quart crockpot, cook the apples and water on high for about 2 hours until they are soft and able to blend well with a hand mixer or potato smasher. Then add the blueberries, sea salt and lemon or lime juice. Cook for 8 hours (preferably overnight). Once again, blend the entire batch in the crockpot with mixer or potato smasher. This makes about 5 to 7 pints using the same canning process that Donald used.

Donald's Canning Process: Pour the apple butter into sterilized mason jars. Leave ¼ inch of head space. Seal with two-piece Mason jar caps that have been sterilized. Process for 10 minutes in a boiling-water canner. This makes about 5 to 7 pints of apple butter. Do not open the jars until ready to use. Refrigerate apple butter after opening the jar.

Overseas Bingo

Hi Guy,

This summer my wife and I are going on our first trip to Europe. It is a two-week group trip with a week in England and a week in France. It is a good excursion because it is 100% planned out so we always have something to do, but we can opt out of the activities if we want to take a night off to relax or do something that is not part of the itinerary.

There are a lot of museum and historical visits that we look forward to but may also skip if we find something else to do. What we thought might be interesting is to go and play Bingo one or two times if we can find someplace to play. How much Bingo do they have in Europe, particularly France and England? —HDD, via e-mail

Hi HDD,

You are in luck. England and France both offer Bingo. England in particular is a huge Bingo country with small Bingo halls and grand Bingo palaces from coast to coast. You could win some very serious money playing Bingo there.

My suggestion would be, when you first arrive, to ask for some kind of directory of local Bingo halls at the hotel's front desk. If you travel a lot then you know that the front desk is information central for the city where you are staying.

The front desk can also help you by helping identify the type of Bingo hall that best matches what you are looking for. With luck it will be within walking distance of the hotel so that you can enjoy a little private sightseeing on your way to and from the hall—and go more than once! Of course, a cab ride to a hall that is further away can be just as much fun and gives you added choices as to where you get to play.

Obviously in France there can be a language barrier—but be prepared for the same in England. Folks assume English is English, but there are many dialects and accents in Britain that will make you think you are hearing a completely different language. And, of course, be prepared for the quirky differences between American and European Bingo—which are sure to add to the fun.

Have a great trip! —Guy

Readers: Have you ever played Bingo in a country outside of North America? What was it like? What were the similarities and differences? Would you recommend the experience to other players? Share your experiences and I'll pass them along in a future column. Send them to my editor at tara@bingobugle.com. —Guy

Savvy Senior

“You ask the senior question, we find the savvy answer!”

Is a reverse mortgage a good idea?

Dear Savvy Senior, What can you tell me about reverse mortgages? When my husband passed away last year my income dropped almost in half, and I've been struggling to keep up with my monthly living expenses. — Senior Homeowner

Dear Senior, For retirees who own their home and want to stay living there, but could use some extra cash, a reverse mortgage is a viable financial tool, but there's a lot to know and consider to be sure it's a good option for you. Let's start with the basics. A reverse mortgage is a unique type of loan that allows older homeowners to borrow money against the equity in their house (or condo) that doesn't have to be repaid until the homeowner dies, sells the house or moves out for at least 12 months. At that point, you or your heirs will have to pay back the loan plus accrued interest and fees (usually by selling the home), but you will never owe more than the value of your home. It's also important to understand that with a reverse mortgage, you, not the bank, own the house, so you're still required to pay your property taxes, homeowners' insurance and upkeep. Not paying them can result in foreclosure. To be eligible, you must be 62 years of age or older, have at least 50 percent equity in your home, and currently be living there. You will also need to undergo a financial assessment to determine whether you can afford to continue paying your property taxes and insurance. Depending on your financial situation, you may be required to put part of your loan into an escrow account to pay future bills. If the financial assessment finds that you cannot pay your insurance and taxes and have enough cash left to live on, you'll be denied. LOAN DETAILS More than 90 percent of all reverse mortgages offered are Home Equity Conversion Mortgages (HECM), which are FHA insured and offered through private mortgage lenders and banks. HECM's have home value limits that vary by county but cannot exceed $1,209,750 in 2025. How much you can actually get through a reverse mortgage depends on your age (the older you are the more you can get), your home's value and the prevailing interest rates. Generally, most people can borrow somewhere between 40 and 60 percent of the home's value. To estimate how much you can borrow, use the reverse mortgage calculator at ReverseMortgage.org. To receive your money, you can opt for a lump sum, a line of credit, regular monthly checks or a combination of these. But be aware the reverse mortgages aren't cheap. You'll have to pay an origination fee, which is the greater of $2,500 or 2 percent of the first $200,000 of your home's value plus 1 percent of the amount over $200,000. HECM origination fees are capped at $6,000. You'll also be charged an initial mortgage insurance premium, which is 2 percent of the loan amount, along with closing costs that will likely run several thousand dollars. Any amount you borrow, including these fees and insurance, accrues interest, which means your debt grows over time. To learn more, see the National Council on Aging's online booklet "Use Your Home to Stay at Home." Also be aware that because reverse mortgages are complex loans, all borrowers are required to get counseling through a HUD approved independent counseling agency before taking one out. Most agencies charge between $125 and $200. To locate one near you, visit HUD.gov, or call 800-569-4287. OTHER OPTIONS If a reverse mortgage doesn't suit you, you could also tap your home equity by getting a regular home equity loan or line of credit. This type of borrowing requires you to make payments, and lenders can freeze or lower limits on lines of credit, but the borrowing costs are much lower. Or you could also sell your home and move somewhere cheaper.

Downsizing help

Sometimes we just don't want to face the truth, so we ignore it as long as we can. But eventually it becomes clear: We need to downsize. Just the word can be painful as we contemplate moving to a smaller place. And then there are all the details — what to keep, how to pack, lifting those heavy boxes. The good news is that we don't have to do it alone. The National Association of Senior & Specialty Move Managers (www.nasmm.org) can steer you toward move managers in your area, people who are trained in all aspects of moving seniors. In the Find A Move Manager section of their website, put in your ZIP code to find people in your area. In my town I found three companies. All advertise stress-free moves and help with organizing, downsizing and relocating. It seems they can do it all — starting with the decluttering that will be necessary for any move to a smaller place. They organize which belongings go to which family members, arrange for the sale of valuables or donations to charity and even take care of trash disposal. What I like best is that they'll do the packing. Then on moving day, they'll be there supervising the movers, dealing with the utility companies to get the power turned on in the new place and, surprise, they'll even unpack on the other end and haul away the empty boxes. Moving to a smaller place might not be what we'd like to do, but when it becomes necessary, it's good to know that we don't have to do it alone.

Poker Talk

by Chad Holloway

Now that’s a bad beat!

I recently witnessed a hand take place that exemplified the short-term luck factors in any given hand of poker. As the old saying goes, in the short term, poker is 90% luck and 10% skill, but in the long term it becomes 10% luck and 90% skill. Sometimes you can make the right play and get punished.

The hand took place in the 2024 World Series of Poker (WSOP) Paradise Event #6: $5,000 Deepstack No-Limit Hold'em, a tournament that attracted 363 entries and awarded a $1,815,000 prize pool.

It happened with just three players remaining on Day 3. It was Level 30 (100,000/200,000/200,000) when chip leader Blaz Zerjav, who had about 6.5 million, raised to 400,000 from the button and Rokas Asipauskas, who began the hand 6.2 million, defended his big blind to see a flop of 2cQsKd.

Asipauskas checked and then called a bet of 300,000, which brought about the 8s on the turn. Zerjav kept the pressure on by betting 1.2 million and Asipauskas used a time extension before calling.

When the Jd completed the board on the river, Asipauskas checked for a third time and Zerjav moved all in. Asipauskas snap-called off his remaining 4.3 million and confidently tabled the KcQh for flopped top two pair.

Unfortunately for Asipauskas, and much to his surprise, it was no good as Zerjav revealed the 10d9d for a rivered gutshot straight.

“Wow,” was all Asipauskas could muster as the dealer verified the stacks.

One might be quick to judge the slow play by Asipauskas, that by taking a passive line he allowed Zerjav to suckout. Had he raised on either the flop or turn, maybe he'd take it down then and there. While that's quite possible, it's also being results oriented.

Asipauskas didn't just want to win the pot, he wanted to extract maximum value, and he was on pace to do that. He just called preflop with a relatively strong hand, and then when he flopped top two pair, he let Zerjav do the work. By just check-calling, he was disguising the strength of his hand and giving Zerjav plenty of rope to hang himself.

Indeed, Zerjav semi-bluffed – meaning he did have a weak draw, in this case a mere gutshot straight draw – on both the flop and turn, and there's a good chance he would've bluffed a third time had the river bricked. In that instance, he'd have to either wave the white flag of fire a third barrel. If he went with the latter, then Asipauskas would've won a huge pot.

Asipauskas actually played the hand well, he just got unlucky.

Asipauskas ended up exiting in third place for $174,050, while Zerjav wound up losing out to China's Lei Yu in heads-up play. Even so, Zerjav received a $225,720 consolation prize for his strong performance.
