THE MAN WHO DECIPHERED LINEAR B the story of MICHAEL VENTRIS

'A wonderfully swift and clear biography'

– The Economist

'Excellent: well researched and clearly presented ...
compelling reading'

– The Times Literary Supplement

'A superb biography of Michael Ventris, combining a warm account of his life with just enough technical detail to satisfy those who have knowledge of linguistics or indeed of the classics. It is a splendid read, and a fine memorial to the split personality that enabled Ventris to decipher Minoan Linear B so triumphantly'

– Current World Archaeology

ANDREW ROBINSON is a King's Scholar of Eton College, where he won the headmaster's Greek grammar prize, and holds a degree from Oxford University; he was also a visiting fellow of Wolfson College, Cambridge.
