

Only Through Me

I want you to know we DO NOT talk with each other or plan who will write about what on what day. However, we do talk with the Author who gives us what to write (GRIN) and make no mistake, the Author has taken us into a specific direction this week. The topics of each daily message this week tell me many of you are facing some really hard things or battling hard with holding on to the truth of what He has spoken to you.

Now, it appears to me that this really has been a pivotal week for us to walk out all GOD has been speaking to us in our personal lives. We are being barraged with we are facing and the reality of do we trust Him or not. Honestly, our walk is really about trusting in what He has spoken to us.

On May 9th- the Lord gave me a Word. I wrote it out, and waited for His timing to release it. Before I get to the Weekend Word, I want to recap this week (so stay with me okay?) it is part of what God is doing.

- Monday- I talked about Control and how respect and intimacy are the foundation on which all loving relationships are built. Without these there can be no trust.
- Tuesday's message ("Which One" May 19th) Rachael explained that the Lord wants us to get in the habit of speaking and confessing out loud the things we believe but we don't necessarily see.
- Wednesday came along and Alicia nailed it (Always/Never May 20th) when she said we have been so trained by society to not believe or trust things that seem too easy or simple and God means what He says & says only what He intends.
- When I saw Thursday's word (False Humility/Pride) it was clear to me what the Weekend Word would be. I had watched the messages unfold all week, with each message building on the others.

The entire Bible from Genesis to Revelation is all about trusting Him. Trusting Him is vital to every believer's walk on this earth. How each man responded to what He said runs throughout the entire Scripture with trusting Him as the core factor of how they ran their race in life.

I saw a picture in my head as I prepared this message. I want you to read His words with this picture in your mind:

God is literally sitting right next to you. He is looking straight at you. His eyes are dripping with compassion and care. He is looking straight into your eyes. He is holding your hands within His, and His hands are so warm, so strong, so comforting. You can literally feel His love for you pouring off Him. He opens His mouth and begins to speak:

Trust Me. Keeping walking. Stay the course. Don't venture or run off the path simply because it's dark or painful. Don't you see? I AM on this path with you. If you leave this path, you leave what I have ahead for you. I know this path is not easy. This path is dark. This path hurts. But I see what is ahead, it is good. It is better. It is what I have for you.

My child, you either believe Me or not. Why do you have doubts in the darkness? Darkness cannot hide Me. My light ALWAYS breaks through. Don't you know? You are my beloved child and therefore the light of the world dwells richly within you.

Hear Me....Come to Me...I Am calling you... cast all your cares upon Me for I care for you. As you do so, My strength will fill you. I NEVER not do what I have said.

Hear this, you are strong in Me and will overcome the enemy through the power of My might. Through Me, you can do all things. My beloved Son always strengthens you.

Trust Me. Look only to Me. Don't look at what you see. Don't let the darkness lie that it can overrule you. Don't let the lies tell you that you are something that you are not! Darkness and it's lies have no power over Me. I am saying to you again you are redeemed from the hand of the enemy. Do you hear Me? Through Me and only Me are you able to exercise authority over the enemy.

How is this possible? My child, it is not complicated for you are a partaker of My divine nature. It is My Spirit that dwells within you. It is by My Spirit alone that you are delivered from the powers of darkness. Trust Me, and watch how I lead you forth by My Spirit.

Oh how I love you. You are a joint heir with My Son, Jesus. All that He has has been given unto you. Because of this, you are blessed with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places. Arise now. Walk in the truth. You are more than a conqueror. You are above only and not beneath.

Do not look at your circumstances any longer. I am reminding you that through Me you will daily overcome the enemy. Do not be moved by what you see and be only moved by My Word to you. I am calling you to walk by faith and not by sight. I am calling you to cast down those vain imaginations. Cast down all things that are not of Me.

Come my child, it is time to bring those thoughts into alignment with My spoken Word to you. As you do so you will be transformed by My power. My Words will transform and renew your mind.
