We are happy to announce that as of February 17, 2021, the Maine Bureau of Insurance's examination vendor, Pearson VUE, started offering remote licensing examinations for Maine producer candidates.

Remote testing with an online proctor is offered for the following producer examinations: life, accident & health, property, and casualty. All other examinations, including combined producer exams (i.e., life and health, property and casualty), are offered in person at Pearson VUE's testing sites. Please be advised that there is limited seating in brick and mortar locations due to covid restrictions.

Candidates interested in remote examinations should visit Pearson VUE's website, <https://home.pearsonvue.com/me/insurance>, to review remote examination procedures and system requirements. All examinations, both remote and in-person, must be scheduled with Pearson VUE through their website or by contacting customer service at 800-274-4959.
