

Alicia Walter

I think about all my time at Dorland working on this album with great fondness – thank you for such a safe haven! :)

I wanted to share – the album I was working on during my stay at Dorland just came out! It's called Right Noise, and it's out on BIG EGO Records. You can see all the YouTube videos of the singles linked on my website.

Link to website: <https://www.iamaliciawalter.com/>

I am originally from Chicago (I live in New York City now), and I just got to do a great interview with CBS News live about the album and my process!

Link to interview: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Pa-GWHU2OWA>

Alicia's Bio:

Known for her “near-cosmic voice” (WIRED) and “stratosphere of songwriting all her own” (Consequence of Sound), Alicia Walter is a Brooklyn-via-Chicago artist whose 2023 album, Right Noise, finds her returning to her songwriting roots at the piano and embracing the magic of live music.

Walter recorded Right Noise (BIG EGO Records), her sophomore album, in a mere three days with a legendary wrecking crew of musicians – incredibly, with no rehearsals prior to the session, and recorded almost entirely live. Throughout Right Noise, Walter has a penchant for singing directly to You— even as she centers herself as narrator— and her message glows with a positivity and encouragement that evokes a kind of sepia-toned optimism.

