

On The Edge

I stand on the edge and feel the breeze
Truth stands where I am, taking me to my knees
I pray to the sky and reach for the horizon
It fades to black, nothing left to keep my eyes on
All that was is all I left behind
Now in the dark, there's nothing I find
So I close my eyes. (breathe) Now I AM free
I see Light and Love right in front of me
In this Grace, this place I wish to keep
I open my Heart... I take the Leap
