Dorval residents participate in University Model U.N.

The University Model United Nations will be held at Université de Montréal and McGill, Feb. 1-4.

During the first week of February, for the past two years, the University Model United Nations has met in Montreal.

The principal agencies of the United Nations Organization were duplicated with students from American and Canadian universities playing the roles of delegates from the countries represented in the United Nations.

Since these first two sessions were well received, the University Model United Nations will meet again this year from the 1 to the 4 of February. Nearly 70 Universities are expected to participate.

Two main goals have prompted the organizers to set up the UMUN: first, to acquaint the students and the general public wishing to attend the meeting with the functioning of the United Nations Organization and of its various agencies; second, to allow students to debate international problems in order to better understand their essence.

JERRY CANDLER, Dorval Citizen, and Treasurer of the United Nations Association in Montreal, is Liaison officer for this association at the University Model United Nations conferences taking place this week.

The project was set up this year by students from: the Université de Montréal, McGill University, Sir George Williams University and Loyola College in cooperation with the United Nations Association in Canada (Montreal Branch).

The coordination and the smooth functioning of the session are insured by an executive committee composed of a president, Mr. Jim Hayes (Loyola College) and two representatives from each of the four sponsoring schools.

ON WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25, 1961 Troop Leader Richard Moore, 38 Strathmore Blvd., of the Strathmore Troop, was awarded the Queen's Scout Badge by District Commissioner Geoff. Wheatley. Mr. K.A. Ramsay is Scoutmaster of the troop, and Assistant Scoutmasters are Mr. R.D. Baxter, and Mr. J.H. Anderson. At present, Richard is the only Scout in the Strathmore Troop to hold the coveted badge of Queen's Scout.

Pratt stresses importance of ethics in public business

In his weekly address last Sunday, over Radio Station CFOX, Mayor John Pratt M.P., quoted from the March 1960 issue of the "Listening Post," monthly publication of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

A CODE OF ETHICS FOR CITIZENS AND PUBLIC OFFICIALS

The Citizens League of Cleveland (Ohio) has called to the attention of "citizens, public officials, and government employees the importance of maintaining confidence in our democratic institutions by strict adherence to the highest level of ethics in the conduct of public business" . . . It is a call which might equally as well have been directed to every citizen and every municipal official and municipal employee throughout Canada.

In an endeavour to focus wide attention on the matter, the Citizens League has developed a code which "brings into the focus the co-equal responsibility of citizens and public officials for the standards of ethics in the conduct of public business . . . For each bribe-taker there must be a bribe-giver . . . For each act of special favour or consideration, there must be a pen and check-book in hand . . . For each gift-receiver, there must be a gift-giver." Without diminishing one iota the responsibility of the public official to maintain the highest standard of ethics, the code says to the citizen that he has an equal responsibility in the maintenance of honesty in public business.

The code is as follows:

1. Obligations of Citizens to Public Officials and Employees:

No person or group should seek special consideration, treatment or advantage beyond that which is available to every other citizen or group. In dealings with public officials and employees citizens should conduct themselves so as to avoid any suspicion of unethical practices. Citizens should judge public officials and employees on the basis of their performance and not upon rumors, distortions or opinions of special interest groups. Citizens should extend the same courtesy and consideration to public officials and employees which is commonly accepted in all other social contacts.

2. Obligations of Public Officials and Employees to Citizens:

No public official or employee should grant special consideration, treatment or advantage to any citizen be-

LITTLE METRO HOLDS MEETING

The Representatives of Dorval, Pointe Claire, Beaconsfield, Baie d'Urfe, Senneville, Ste. Anne de Bellevue and Ste Anne du Bout de L'Île, which form part of Little Metro, held a meeting last Friday night. Out of the discussion, there came a decision that all of these communities will assist each other by distributing copies of all by-laws among the membership, so that benefit may be derived by all.

It was also felt that the Province of Quebec should be approached to set up a training school for police and fire forces.

It was also decided that the Province should be requested to expedite the construction of grade separations on the few remaining dangerous level crossings along the Lakeshore.

Red Feather cooperating in Lakeshore drive

Red Feather-Welfare Federation of Montreal will be cooperating this year with three united charity drives in the Lakeshore area. Baie d'Urfee, Beaconsfield and Pointe Claire are all holding local united drives for charity purposes within the next few months, and Red Feather is happy to be able to work with them to help reduce the number of different appeals.

Red Feather provides services of both a direct and indirect nature for residents of the Lakeshore. The direct Services are rendered by the Lakeshore Welfare Services. This agency was established especially for the purpose of meeting needs in this area. The centre is located in Pointe Claire but serves most of the Lakeshore area from Dorval to Senneville. To make the best use of available community funds, professionally trained personnel and planning knowledge, the Lakeshore Welfare Services was set up about four years ago by Red Feather - Welfare Federation as a multiple function agency. It now offers family counselling and child care services; visiting homemaker service; year-round public recreation planning and consultation; financial assistance and a vocational social project for slow-learning teen-agers. In addition, information and directional services relating to all kinds of human needs are available and staff is prepared to meet with other interested community organizations to discuss and plan new community services. It is felt to be supremely important that planning and development be on a co-ordinated basis in order to avoid the many problems known to rise from unrelated services. Some 460 families were served last year.

At times residents of the Lakeshore area feel that they are cut off completely from some of the major services offered by Red Feather due to their suburban location. However, it must be stressed that many of the 34 Red Feather services do cover the entire Island of Montreal and parts of the South Shore. By actual count 20 of the 34 Red Feather agencies give some form of service in all the major Welfare fields: Family Welfare, child care, group work and recreation, to citizens of the Lakeshore. Some of the specialized services are: Adoption Services of the Childrens Service Centre, Mental Hygiene Institute, Marriage Counselling, The Occupational Therapy and Rehabilitation Centre, Travellers Aid Society and the Y.M.C.A., to mention only a few.

At a recent meeting of representatives of Red Feather and the Pointe Claire and Beaconsfield Community Appeals, Mr. Charles H. Young, Red Feather's Executive Director, pointed out that residents of the Lakeshore are also citizens of Greater Montreal. The residents of Baie d'Urfee, for example, had just as much reason to support Red Feather Services as those of the Town of Mount Royal, said Mr. T. Young. Both communities received the same kind of service. Most of the agencies of Welfare Federa-

Jean - Concentrate on Excavation and Forget Annexation.

Mr. Larry Faust, President of Larry Faust Realities Co. Ltd. has just announced that due to rapid growth and expansion, this company has found it necessary to establish two departments in its Lakeshore office and has appointed Mr. B.L. Banner F.R.I. to the position of Sales Manager Residential and Mr. Marc Wilkins to the position of Sales Manager of the Commercial, Industrial, and Land Departments.

icines and drugs has aided in this fight. Mr. Howsam also made the point that, despite the vast benefits provided by the drug industry for the better health, quicker cure, and longer life span of modern man, the cost of drugs today has shown a rate of increase less than that of commodities generally as reflected by the consumer price index. (Consumer price index-128.3; drugs-127.5) "Indeed" stated Mr. Howsam, "the latest survey of the Ontario College of Pharmacy reported that the average prescription today costs only $2.98.

Mr. Howsam expressed great expectations for the future and stated that the industry as a whole was spending $200 million per year in research and that his company alone had budgeted $13.5 million for this purpose in 1960. "Last year SK&F tested over 1500 compounds and will consider itself lucky if one proves safe effective and medically significant," he said.

During the business meeting which followed Mr. Howsam's dissertation, two topics in particular were discussed at some length. Mr. Charles Larose reported on his efforts to obtain information as to the availability of land for industrial purposes in Dorval and the types of industry for which it is suited. He noted the lack of cooperation on the part of civic authorities who feared that negotiations presently underway between the City and Companies who might consider locating here might suffer. The hope was expressed that a better understanding of the aims of the committee by the city might result in better cooperation in supplying the information needed. The question of traffic safety and traffic control was discussed at some length and Mr. Larose and Mr. Roy Amaron were named as the Chamber's representative on the City Safety Committee.

the situation revealed by a recent study of education and training in relation to employment. This showed that only 30 percent of all jobs in Canada are open to unskilled and semi-skilled workers, and that the proportion is decreasing as technology advances and employers are forced to seek workers with higher levels of education and training.

Upgrading the skills of the unemployed and thereby building a better-trained and more efficient work force, could undoubtedly produce some very real benefits - by creating more earning and purchasing power, reducing unemployment and cutting welfare costs.

As with all technical and vocational training the responsibility for establishing training programs for unemployed persons rests with the provinces. Courses may be given in existing municipal or provincial vocational schools or other institutions, or in special training centres established by the provinces. Trainees must be registered with the local National Employment Service office, which assists the provinces in the selection of persons to take the courses offered.

John Pratt says

As part of the broad effort to increase employment, the Canadian Government recently offered to pay a larger share of the cost of programs for the training and re-training of unemployed people under "Schedule M" of the Federal-Provincial Vocational Training Agreements.

Until recently the Federal Government and those provinces which provided training programs under the Schedule shared equally in the costs of such programs. The amended agreements now provide for the federal share to be increased to 75 percent when a basic number of student training days has been reached. The purpose of the program is to raise an unemployed person's level of proficiency and thus open new employment opportunities to him. The new amendment, designed to increase and extend the number of training programs, is in some respects a response to

FIRST MEETING FOR CofC

The Dorval Chamber of Commerce held its first general meeting of the New Year at the Green Lantern Restaurant last week with a good turnout of old and new members. The President, Gordon Graham commented on the fact that the Chamber was finally returning to a Dorval meeting place for the first time since its organizational meeting in 1958.

Guest speaker for this occasion was Mr. Peter S. Howsam, Director of Marketing of Smith, Kline & French a Montreal pharmaceutical firm. Appropriately Mr. Howsam's topic was "R for the Future" and he traced the progress his industry has made over the past few years. He show-

CARAMBA!

That's a swear word in Spanish. But you'll never hear even a mild "gosh darn it!" from anyone who has the good sense to patronize the local merchants and shop in Dorval. Prices are lower; shopping is roomier and easier; and there's complete variety to match any metropolitan store. What's more, your Dorval merchant takes a personal interest in you. Be wise - be smart - shop Dorval and save time and money!

Comment on Sports

This week we received a write-up from Courtland Park covering their hockey activities. I couldn't resist asking a few questions when it was delivered. It is surprising how much we don't know about what is going on in our town. - and particularly Courtland Park. (From what I can gather and from what I read, there are a few people in Courtland who don't know either).

Bud Wiley has been Sports Director for three years. Bud, of course, is a real athlete himself and very sports-minded. He is the real "push" behind hockey. This sport has just got underway in the last couple of years and right now they are looking forward to having at least two more teams next year.

As a start, scrub games are played every Saturday morning. This is for those boys too small to play organized hockey. So every boy in Courtland can play if he wants to.

Bob Cote is Bud's assistant. Bob is a young sports minded individual who feels deeply about the need of sports activities of all kinds. It is, as he points out, the participation that counts. Winning is wonderful, but it comes secondary to good wholesome participation.

I note that the Pee Wee team is doing very well. There are twelve boys playing and Courtland only has twelve boys of Pee Wee age anxious to play hockey.

In passing we want to salute a couple of tomorrow's super-stars and today's Courtland Park heroes. Chris Morris, top goal getter of the Mosquitoes, is a real play maker. Mike Brown, (remember the quarterback?) of the Pee Wees, besides being top scoring man, is a thinking man's player. Good luck to both of you.

What would we do in Dorval without the ladies? There are two wives in Courtland who could very easily take over a man's job any time you fellows want to step down! Norma Langille and Bette Ames, understudies to their husbands, mothers of players, and cheering section for Courtland at every game, home and away. Our congratulations. Dorval needs more like you.

Now we have a couple of special announcements.

First, Courtland Parkers don't miss your own Carnival being held on Feb. 11. Most interesting feature is the challenge relay race on skates. All Dorval Recreation Groups are urged to put on their best relay team to challenge for the four individual trophies being donated by the Bank of Montreal.

Second - Windsor Gardens Community Association will hold their annual Carnival on Sunday. Come on you Windsorites - a little support please!

HOCKEY IN COURTLAND PARK

Hockey in Courtland Park has kept pace with the needs of sports-minded youngsters in our area. This is due to the untiring efforts put forth by coaches Frank Porteous (Bantams), R.R. (Rusty) Fletcher (Pee - Wees), co-coaches D. McIvor and G.A. Allen (Mosquitoes). Under their direction the boys have played good "heads-up" hockey and in so doing have given to those few parents attending the game, much enjoyment.

Our Pee Wee team is holding down second place with one week of the schedule remaining. If our Pee Wees maintain their present high calibre of hockey during the remainder of the schedule and into the playoffs, we have a very good chance of winning the Dorval Championship.

We are very fortunate to have two top notch referees in Norm Johnston and Doug Wilmot. They have done a terrific job. So much so, (under Ross Hill-referee-in-chief) that they are in demand on the other rinks throughout Dorval.

The coldest job in hockey is split between Lloyd Langille and John Ames. They are our durable timekeepers. We feel that hockey is moving well in our district, but more parental help is needed in furthering sports. We need sports-minded parents to help us with transportation and attendance at the games.

INTELLIGENCE FOR THE INTELLIGENTSIA

Credit for the unusual three level design of the set for "Death of a Salesman," opening on the Mountain Playhouse Thursday, February 2 goes to SYRROB. In real life a resident of a Dorval and a young-man-about-theatre in Montreal and on the Lakeshore, this is his first assignment for a fully professional production, though he won an award from M.R.T. several years ago for a setting he designed for Macbeth.

Not many people realized, when the Royal Ballet was here last week that there is one Canadian in the Company. She is Jean Gilbert, the beautiful and accomplished Solo Pianist. Dorvalite Mrs. Lillian Lucas who lunched with Miss Gilbert during her brief stay in Montreal briefed us on her early intensive training in music in Calgary (she is a fine violinist as well) and on the tragic and fortuitous circumstances which have lead to her present post with the Royal Ballet. Theatrically speaking the busiest young lady in Dorval this season is MISS LINDA RANDALL, who played Anne Whitefield in the McGill Production of Man and Superman in December and now stars in the Red and White Revue, "OH KENNEDY" (We Stand On Guard For Thee). Versatile, volatile Miss Randall who last year portrayed a red-mopped mobster in "Got It Made," currently stars as French-Canadian teen-ager in the satirical lampoon of America's handling of the cold war. Us older folks will recall that John Pratt once had a share in the production of a Red and White Revue. Better plan to see this one. It's tops!

MONTREAL'S OWN MAGNIFICENT MAUREEN FORRESTER is booked for a Sunday afternoon concert at Stratford, July 30. Having sung in leading concert halls and opera houses all over the world, she looks forward, she says, to singing in the Festival Theatre for the first time. Her previous appearance at Stratford was in the old concert hall in 1956. Miss Forrester is one of the rare examples of twentieth century womanhood; she excels in her chosen career and simultaneously leads another existence as a wife and mother of four, yes four, very small children.

SPEAKING OF STRATFORD.....

Lois Marshall is to join Glenn Gould, Oscar Shumsky and Leonard Rose on the concert stage in the Sunday afternoon concerts.

DESIGNER BRIAN JACKSON is constructing models for two sets that will be seen at the Avon Theatre next July in Tyrone Guthrie's production of "The Pirates of Penzance."

FROM OUR SUB/ZERO DEPTHS it is pleasant to catch a glimpse, even through a press release, of the 9,000 late-blooming tulips which will grace adjoining gardens at the June openings of the Shakespearean Festival.

'TWN'T SEEM SO FAR TO TRAVEL EITHER with Highway #401 extended to just south of Kitchener. The Kitchener to Woodstock stretch is supposed to be finished by spring of '61. See you there.

THE PLAYHOUSE ON THE MOUNTAIN will re-open its current season with Arthur Miller's Pulitzer prize-winning tragedy, "Death of a Salesman." This will afford Montrealers the opportunity to see the tragedy our generation specializes in, the tragedy of the little guy. If you are a sure-fire business success, you'll be able to afford a seat at the Mountain Playhouse, and Willy Loman's troubles won't cut too near the bone anyhow. For the rest of us it will be a never-to-be-forgotten experience. This production is exceptionally well-cast, and should be well worth the romantic journey to the top of snow-covered Mount Royal.

ALLAN SHIACH who heads this year's Red and White Revue opening in Moyses Hall tonight was mysteriously changed his good Gaelic name to another good Gaelic name - SCOTT . . . Saw him on Montreal Matinee (and again last week on 701), being introduced as Allan Scott.

Well, Scott is easier to spell, and with the theatrical career, both as writer, satirist and performer which Mr. Shiach is already carving for himself, one can readily see that "Scott" would look better in lights. Are we prejudiced?

WE T.V.IEW WITH ALARM

Channel 12 which is demoralizing our small fry, who were in the habit of watching such high class fare as The Friendly Giant, Maggle Muggins and Round Up, have switched allegiance to Magic Tom and a line-up of the noisiest, crummiest lot of cartoons. We have laid down an U-L-T-I-M-A-T-U-M!

The vapid innocence of the poor doe-eyed youngsters, college students these, who described falling in love as a "funny feeling in the pit of my stomach," and "being struck with a thunder bolt," was pathetic on "Let's Face It" last week. Sane and charming was the lady from India who described the pre-arranged marriage and how it worked out. Very scientific, slightly lacking in a sense of humour (especially that verging on ribaldry) was Psychiatrist Dr. Epstein of the University of Montreal. His definition of love was the selfish one of keeping the other person around in order to gratify one's own needs. Someone should have put in a word for II Corinthians, Chapter 13. Perhaps these moonstruck students would do well to memorize it. It could help to lower the divorce rate!

STRONG CAST FOR PATIENCE

A strong group of experienced principals heads the large cast of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience" to be presented by St. Paul's Operatic Society on February 9-10-11th in the Auditorium of the Lachine High School. Evan Jones in the role of Colonel Calverley was Pooh-Bah in the Society's "Mikado" last season. Patience is played by Barbara Borlase who was seen as Yum-Yum in "The Mikado" Guild for several years.

Don Ellis as the Duke of Dunstable was Nanki-Poo in "The Mikado" and has appeared in many productions of the St. Lambert and Montreal West Operatic Societies. Phyllis Evans as The Lady Jane was Katisha in "The Mikado" and has had long experience in concert and operatic work both in Canada and England. Leonard Langmead will appear as Reginald Bunthorne, Eileen Gorloff as The Lady Sopher, Harry Wainwright as Archibald Grosvenor, S. Caddell as Mr. Bunthorne's Solicitor, Mary Marioni as The Lady Ella, Lynne Ivens as The Lady Angela and Stephen Rabbits as Major Murgatroyd. The Director, Mrs. Harry Norris, studied at the Royal Academy of Music in London, England, where she received the L.R.A.M. and A.R.C.M. in singing and pianoforte.

Richard McLaughlin who returns as Musical Director, studied at the Royal Academy, has appeared in McGill musical productions and was conductor at Queen's University Summer School.

yond that which is available to every other citizen or group. Public officials and employees shall at all times conscientiously and faithfully perform their duty. They should be tactful, patient and courteous in answering all enquiries. The guiding rule should be: "What is done for one is done for all - in the same kind, in the same amount and in the same manner."

4. Use of Public Property:

No citizen, public official or employee should request or permit the use of government-owned vehicles, equipment, materials or property for personal convenience or profit, except when such services are available to the public generally.

Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Bourne of Dorval, Quebec, Canada on their recent tour to Florida paid a visit to Florida's big west coast attraction WEEKI WACHEE, Spring of Live Mermaids. The Bourne family is pictured above chatting with Bonnie Georgiadis, supervisor of the 15 mermaids who perform daily at WEEKI WACHEE. They were much surprised to find that one of the mermaids hails from Montreal, Canada. Bonnie informed the more Canadian mermaid applicants are wanted. Bonnie urged the Bournes to pass the good word along to Canadian lassies upon their return. Any young lady interested in this glamorous career in sunny Florida can start by writing to Bonnie Georgiadis Box 97, Brooksville, Florida.

For my money, it's a Current Account!
For my money, it's a Personal Chequing Account!
For my money, it's a Savings Account!

Which is the RIGHT account for your MONEY?

Are you using your bank to your own greatest advantage?

Are you putting your money into the particular type of account - or accounts - that best suits your needs?

At the Bank of Montreal, Savings Accounts, Personal Chequing Accounts and Current Accounts all offer you particular advantages depending on how you plan to use the money you deposit.

Best way to decide which account, or combination of accounts, is just right to give you the best run for your money is to pick up a copy of the B of M's little folder "The Right Account Will Save You Money". It outlines the difference between the various accounts and explains how best you can use them. And it's yours for the asking.

Ask for your copy at your neighbourhood B of M branch

tion render general services to the total population except for neighbourhood agencies and community centres which had a local territorial reference.

Much of the Red Feather canvass in the Lakeshore area will be conducted by the Women's Division under the general Chairmanship of Mrs. Herbert S. Bogert. Some of the local campaign leaders include Mrs. J.C. Merritt, Senneville and St. Annes; Mrs. W. Rowles, Macdonald College; Mrs. J.L. Cusack and Mr. W.G. Townsend, Dorval. All the canvassers for Red Feather are volunteers, giving of their time and energy freely and without thought of recompense other than the satisfaction of helping others. Many of the local committee meetings are held in various leaders' homes and the cost of my introductory teas or receptions for canvassers are met by the campaign leaders themselves. No campaign funds are used.
