

So Slowly Fast

Why does time pass so slowly
Why does time pass so fast
When will you say you love me
How long will it last
How long

The sun was near and bright
The sand was virgin white
The sea was crystal blue
A calm breeze blew
To comfort you

Theresa slides out of her sandals
She slips out of her shirt
She takes off her skirt

Why does time pass so slowly
Why does time pass so fast
When will you say you love me
How long will it last
How long

The air was brisk
The steam rose from the horses
The body felt warm between your legs
The smell of the leather

The morning was exciting
The rhythm of the ride
We rested the horses
And, then we returned
Then we returned

Why does time pass so slowly
Why does time pass so fast
When will you say you love me
How long will it last
How long
