- It is a great part-time job for soccer fans!
- It's good for your health – you get paid to exercise!
- Young referees can build life skills – self-confidence, communication, decision making, responsibility.
- United States Soccer Federation-certified referees can work events around the state and around the country!
- USSF Soccer Referee certification is transferrable if you move to or go to college in another state.
- If you have what it takes, you can advance and work the highest youth competitions, adult amateur, lower pro, MLS, and even international competitions. Mark Geiger started as a New Jersey youth referee and went on to the World Cup!

The New Jersey State Referee Committee is continually recruiting for new Grade 8 and Grade 9 referees to serve the needs of youth soccer. We provide training classes throughout the year.
