

LIVIN' IN FLORIDA NOW

By John Lipinski & Beth Courtney

Livin' in Florida now, you know I wasn't born here
Can't even recall where I came from at all
Vaguely remember something about a snowplow
Love the winter down here, favorite time of the year
Don't miss the snow, or the cold winds that blow
Thank God, I'm in Florida now

They say it's not too good to gamble
But down here they make it so easy
You might even score, a few miles from the shore
Where the saltwater air is so breezy
Here the smilin' faces and tropical faces
Can wash all your troubles away
Not a stranger for long here in paradise
You'll have friends by the end of the day

Livin' in Florida now, best choice that I could've made
Swimmin' and fishin', yeah our only mission
Is finding a spot in the shade
I dig the tropical scene, where it rains 20 minutes a day
We'll all have fun, we're enjoying the sun
Livin' large, in Florida now

Lookin' at life through a rear-view mirror
The past doesn't look like the present
If the sun isn't shining, it will be soon
Most days the weather's so pleasant
Yeah, summertime's hurricane season
As we watch the barometer slide
For many it's just a good reason
To throw parties, or catch a big ride

Livin' in Florida now, there's no place that we'd rather be Seafood and barbecue, Landshark beer
The beach is calling us now
Sunsets are beautiful here, the heavens take your breath away
Drinks with umbrellas, for girls and their fellas
Life's good here in Florida now

We roll and we rock, packing plenty of sun block
We're in Florida now
