

Shelter book sale with auction, raffle Saturday

Staff Writer

Randolph County Animal Shelter volunteers had a very good day Saturday, particularly with the raffle tickets, and are looking for another good book sale Saturday, said Evelyn Smith, who is in charge of fundraising.

They have been shelving hundreds of new books. There are three prizes for the raffle, and there is a silent auction at the semi-annual book sale to raise funds for the dogs and cats at the animal shelter.

The silent auction items include an old bank made from an old post office box door and beautiful wood with a combination lock. It was donated by Rex Ballinger. It has an eagle on it and a limited edition designation.

The other item up for auction is a decorative ring barrel painted by Geneima Davis, who decorated it. Smith said it can be placed in a garden or in the yard.

The raffle includes $400 in cash; a 12-gauge shotgun and a Kindle HDX. Raffle tickets are $1 each or six for $5. The drawing is at noon on Saturday, and you do not have to be present to win.

Silent auction item

Evelyn Smith (left) and Cathryn Clark take a break from shelving books for the second week of the semi-annual book sale for the Randolph County Animal Shelter and stop to admire this unusual bank made of beautiful wood and an old post office box door with a combination lock. It is being sold at silent auction to raise funds for the shelter.

Mystery book grab bags are $1 for 10 paperbacks. You can pick out 20 romance paperbacks for a dollar. A wide variety and big selection of health and diet books are selling for $1 in a designated area.

Smith said to come get your spring and summer reading at inexpensive prices.

Tickets for the raffle can be purchased at the book sale earlier in the day or from any board member, at the shelter in Wedowee or by calling 256-770-1208.