

A Perfect Day for a Hike

Yesterday I went for a hike with some of my friends. The trail was very _____ and my boots made a _____ sound with every step I took. Since we planned to hike _____ miles, I took along a snack of _____ in my backpack. I also carried my _____ and a _____, just in case I fell or needed to call for help on the trail. The weather was _____; it was a perfect day for a hike.

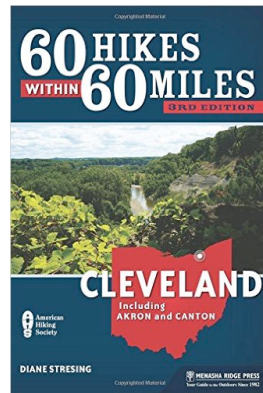

When we reached a pond, we decided it was a good place to stop and eat our _____. But, as we started to eat, we heard a loud _____ noise coming from the woods.

“_____!” said our leader.

Some of my friends wanted to _____ into the woods to find out what had made the noise. But not me! I was afraid it might be the dreaded wild _____ of _____ that I’d heard so much about.

Luckily, before anyone went to _____ the source of the noise, Mr./Mrs. _____ came walking out of the woods. “Did you hear that?” we asked. “Well of course I heard that,” said Mr./Mrs. _____. I was just practicing my _____ out here in the fresh air.”

Which just goes to prove, you never know _____ you’ll learn when you hit the trail.
