The Industrial Development Board of Greeneville and Greene County will meet Thursday at 8:30 a.m. at the Greene County Courthouse Annex conference room.

According to Greeneville Mayor W.T. Daniels, who also chairs the IDB, the board will consider economic incentives for a local company looking to utilize space in the Chasan Industrial Complex on Snapps Ferry Road, the former site of a Magnavox manufacturing facility.

Daniels wouldn't say what company is seeking incentives, and a memo calling the meeting sent from IDB attorney Jerry Laughlin only refers to "Project Tiger."

Laughlin previously said he wasn't at liberty to identify the company in question.
