

How Sweet You Are Jesus

October 31st, 2024

Beloved family, I pray that we may all come to know the sweetness that dwelling with Jesus brings to our hearts.

My dear family, just to fill you in on why I was silent for many days, there was a violent attack that came against me through an animal that was propelled by a demon and left me in the hospital for four days. Now, I am regaining the use of my left hand which was injured. As always when the Lord allows down time, I have a chance to go deeper. I needed that time for sure and I am grateful.

“Oh Jesus I miss You!”

Jesus began, “That is also My Heart Beloved. You have asked to be humbled, have I done well with that?”

“Yes, You do well with everything, even when You have the sorriest example to work with. Yes, I am so grateful to be humbled. I do not want to be shocked to see how many opportunities I missed to show my love for You.

What is on Your Heart my precious Lord.”

He began, “It is good to see you praying the Rosary, but don’t keep My Mother at arms distance, she loves to converse with you. You both have something wonderful in common.”

“Okay. Jesus, can I please dance with You and go to Heaven with You?”

He continued, “In this moment, let Me just hold you and tell you how pleased I am with your efforts to hold it all together. You have been hit with several onslaughts and dragged through the mud of false accusation. But because you do not trust in yourself and cling to Me, I will pull you through this Clare.

“It is good to be humbled, it is healthy to see yourself in all your weakness. You survive these because I live inside of you and nothing shall overcome Us. The tenderness you feel for Me, for My Heart,” He took a long, deep breath...and let it out with tears streaming down His cheeks, and then He said, “You have touched the deepest part of My Heart with your love for Me and your own people whom you are just beginning to know.” He is talking about my Israelite heritage.

“The love We share, He continued, is profoundly deep and intimate and everything that it should be with the spouse of your immortal soul. I want you cuddled up and snuggled into My heart Beloved, wrapped around My Heart and infused with My life, My love for you and all humanity. You are as in a cocoon of Divine Love, soaking up the treasures of My Heart, which will come out and wash over humanity like a pearlescent wave of living waters that reaches down and penetrates to the greatest depths of My creation, especially the hearts of My Beloved ones.”

I began to doubt that was the Lord.

Jesus continued, “I know what you are thinking. Uh uh. This is no illusion, rather it is Me communicating to you about the wonders of My Love which I have tended like a priceless garden in your heart. I see your desire to love, and the more you wait attentively for Me, in your emptiness, the fuller and deeper the wellsprings of living water I restore to you for others.

I know you have been tempted to give up. I have seen and heard everything they have done to you, but you are not of their world, so there is no landing place for their lies. They have tried to overcome you with discouragement, but My courage and faith in you has raised you to your feet again, even stronger.

“They have continually thrown the sins of your youth at you, hoping that you would see yourself in their darkness, but all those sins have been forgiven, and made atonement for. Your enemies are inveterate liars, and their minds are filled with the very worst scum of the earth, a place you do not belong to. You are already a citizen of Heaven, and nothing will change that. Heaven is Our home, where you belong even now, to walk among the holy ones, to dream dreams and bless all My Children with what you have learned here on this earth.

“Truly I have much work for you to do, much delightful work for Us to do together. You shall be given every gift your heart longs for to communicate My love. In Heaven it shall never be spoken by you, “Oh I wish I had this color of pigment, or I wish I could hit that high C.” No such thoughts will ever occur to you because it shall be done for you at the slightest desire of your heart.”

“Oh Lord, it is so true! I want to communicate so much more about Your love...so much more. If only people could believe how very wonderful and personal you are. If only they could see the tears rolling down your cheeks when they are hurting, and you hurt alongside them. And the delight You express when they realize You are always right there with them. I am at a total loss to describe how much You care for even the littlest disappointments that cast shadows over our hearts...and how Your aching heart longs to console them.

“You are not some far away disinterested cosmic force, rather You are the most compassionate and tender lover, forever faithful to our souls, always there when we hurt, always bringing us closer to the knowledge of who You are and how very deeply You love and care for us.”

Oh, my people worship our wonderful, forever faithful God, Who created this beautiful planet as our playground and resource. Thank you, Lord, for all You have done and given to us. I worship You and long to worship You even more. Please give us this grace. Amen.
