

Georgian Bar

A method of bespokeing the windows by visually dividing the glass units into small panes by the insertion of a white shaped bar in between the glass panes. Georgian bars are available in either 18mm or 25mm strips and can be designed with as many strips as you require.

