

Nets vs. Network

Leave your human
nets
and join the divine
network.

Caught in our own nets,
we sink;
attached to God's network,
we swim.

Our nets enmesh;
His network enables.
Our nets constrict;
His network liberates.
Our nets oppress;
His network elevates.

Our nets are sewn of
greed, lust, and pride;
His network is designed by generosity, purity, and love.

Our nets entangle us in violence and the culture of death;
God's network impels us to
peace and the celebration of life.

Some of our nets
border on insanity;
God's network
draws us to sanctity.

Since Catholic means
universal,
long before the digital domain,
the gospel of Christ
has summoned us
to abandon our nets
and become part of
His network:
the world-wide-web
called the Church!
