

Southwest Ireland Golf Adventure
Doonbeg, Killarney, Kinsale and Limerick
July 12 - 23, 2020

Event Details:

We recently had several members ask us to organize a SFGA trip to the Southwest of Ireland and we agreed. After all, if you want to cross the great links at Tralee, Waterville, Ballybunion and Old Head off your bucket list, the Southwest is where you'll have to go! Well, we've had the pleasure of taking our SFGA members all over the world and one of their most popular golf destinations has always been Ireland. Ireland has so many reasons to visit in addition to the golf including the breathtaking landscapes, the witty humor, fantastic cuisine and the music. Even without a drop of Irish blood in your veins, it's easy to fall in love with Ireland's charms, traditions, and strong sense of community. You will experience these Irish traditions and more, as this trip combines the perfect blend of golf and sightseeing. And best of all, you'll have one of the best driver/guides in Ireland who will teach you a bit of Gaelic, discuss Irish history & culture, assist with your bags and chauffeur you around in a private coach for the entire trip. Our trip will take place in mid-July when the weather is typically warmer and the precipitation is considered to be low. It's the best time of the year to visit and the golf courses should be in their best shape. Ireland has become a mecca for golfers and one visit is all it takes to understand why the Emerald Isle is such a magical place.

Please note several important details:

- Guests should fly in and out of Shannon Int. Airport(SNN), on Ireland's west coast.
- Flights are over-night and in order to arrive the morning of the July 12th, you need to depart from the US on Saturday the 11th of July, 2020.
- The hotels we've selected are considered among the very best in each city we visit. Not only will our participants receive upgraded rooms at each venue but these hotel are centrally located in the towns of Killarney, Kinsale and Limerick. So it will be an easy walk to shops, restaurants and pubs.

- In Ireland golfers usually walk so most courses have no carts or only limited availability of carts. However, some carts are available at Ballybunion, Dooks and Waterville. The cost of the carts are additional and average about 50 euros per round. If you want carts at these courses please let us know at least 90 days prior to the trip so we may reserve them for you.
- The Golf Courses will not confirm our tee time bookings until early 2020, so the itinerary may vary slightly based on the 2020 member's tournament schedule for each club.
- Participants will be chauffeured to and from all the golf courses on our own private motor coach. It takes anywhere from 25 minutes(Old Head) to 1.5 hours(Waterville) to travel to these courses. The rides to and from the courses are enjoyable as you will witness some of the most spectacular coastal and mountain scenery Ireland has to offer.

Course Information:

Trump International Doonbeg Golf Course

The world renowned 18-hole championship course at Trump International Golf Links & Hotel™ Doonbeg, spans 1.5 miles of crescent shaped beach and century old sand dunes along Doughmore Bay. The County Clare, Ireland golf course was officially opened in 2002 and immediately earned the prestigious title of Golf Digest's Best New International Course. In 2010, Trump International Doonbeg was awarded European Golf Resort of the Year by the International Association of Golf Tour Operators.

As early as 1892, officers of the Scottish Black Watch Regiment considered Doonbeg an ideal setting for links golf Ireland. Since then Trump Doonbeg has been transformed by Dr. Martin Hawtree to one of the 'must play' golf courses on the international circuit. He has allowed the character and soul of the land to flourish while enhancing the playability tenfold. Every hole has its own identity which will both reward and challenge each golfer.

Lahinch Golf Club: Old Course

It has been described as 'The St Andrews of Ireland' and many other complimentary titles. Those who know and love the place firmly believe that Lahinch Golf Club doesn't need comparison with any of the game's other world class venues. From the infant days back in 1892 up to today, the Club has stood out on its own merits as a golfing institution like none other. In July of 2019 Lahinch hosted the Irish Open, a European PGA Tour Event, which was won by Jon Rahm who began the final round 5 shots behind and shot a blistering 62 on his way to a 2 shot victory. Lahinch Golf Club is renowned for the way the links has retained all of its old virtues. It has benefited from the willingness, over the decades, to move with the times and is now regarded as one of the best and most enjoyable challenges to be found anywhere in the golfing world. The legendary Old Tom Morris set the highest standards for the course from the outset. He was followed by equally celebrated architects Charles 'Mo' Gibson and Dr Alister MacKenzie. In more recent times, the expertise of Dr Martin Hawtree ensures its place in the higher echelons of all golf rankings.

Dooks Golf Club

Golf has been played at Dooks since 1889. It was introduced to the local aristocracy by officers from the Royal Horse Artillery attending compulsory training at the nearby Glenbeigh Artillery Range. The golf course is set out on one of three stretches of sand dunes at the head of the Dingle Bay. Dooks is a traditional links course. As such it has a special place in the annals of the links golf and must be preserved at all costs. Its character typifies the true meaning of what this form of game should represent. It exists to give enjoyment and challenge without resorting to undue length and so for the golfer, who is seeking a beautiful and tranquil environment to enjoy good golf, Dooks will make you glad you came to Ireland! Hole #13 best illustrates the charm and magic of Dooks. It is a throwback hole to the time when golf began. Greens lay where they fell, and were the better for it.

Waterville Golf Club

Waterville has enjoyed great popularity and has hosted some of the world's leading professionals from Faldo and Floyd to Stewart, O'Meara and Woods, all of whom have been captivated by the course.

Raymond Floyd subsequently wrote of his experience: "this is one of the most beautiful places I have ever seen it has some of the finest links holes I have ever played". The late Henry Cotton, three times British Open Champion, probably said it best when he commented: "Waterville has to be one of the greatest golf courses ever built. If it were located in Britain, it would undoubtedly be a venue for the British Open. I have never seen a more consistent succession of really strong and beautiful golf holes than here.” Now that you’ve read what these guys had to say, don’t you want to see for yourself??? Oh and by the way, their own website claims that it is the Number 1 ranked Golf Links in Ireland!

Ballybunion Golf Club: Old Course

A Breathtaking Challenge - The legendary Tom Watson described the glorious links at Ballybunion Golf Club as the best in the world. High praise indeed for this magnificent test of golf which meanders menacingly through massive dunes on the shores of the Atlantic. Ballybunion Golf Club actually boasts two separate courses.

The Old Course (Par 71, 6,598 yards) certainly can bare it's teeth when the wind comes up - and it's often windy! The Old Golf Course is consistently ranked as one of the world's top ten golf courses, features a graveyard by the first tee, which some say is a warning to golfers who breeze through the first five holes only to come face to face with the ever challenging 6th, the fiendish 8th, the daunting par four 11th and the devilishly tricky 15th. Top100Courses.co.uk – consistently ranks Ballybunion Old Course as No. 1 in Ireland, find out why!

Tralee Golf Club

Representing the first European design of Arnold Palmer, Tralee Golf Club in southwestern Ireland is one of the most spectacularly beautiful golf courses you will ever encounter. And while beauty often masks certain deficiencies in a golf course, that is certainly not the case with Tralee. Having completed his masterpiece, Palmer commented: "I have never come across a piece of land so ideally suited for the building of a golf course. I am happy that we have one of the world's great links here".

Tralee Golf Course, while it always boasted a magnificent setting, with the course settling down and the greens thriving over time, Tralee has now joined the elite group of Irish links. With views of the Atlantic and white sandy beaches from almost every hole, Tralee earns rave reviews from all who play it.

Old Head Golf Club

"The most spectacular golf course in the world" - (Links Magazine)

Unrivalled in terms of the magnificent beauty and setting of the site, Old Head Golf Links continues to take the golfing world by storm. The brainchild of John and Patrick O'Connor, the Club has developed into one of the most recognized and sought after golf experiences anywhere on earth. The Course is 20 minutes from the Trident Hotel in Kinsale...

Old Head is a remarkably dramatic piece of Ireland, built on a 220-acre diamond shaped piece of land, jutting out over two miles into the Atlantic Ocean. The promontory is almost an island with numerous caves running beneath your feet as you play the course. The links and practice area occupy 180 acres and the remaining 40 acres of unspoilt cliff (rising in places to over 300 feet) frame the course. Old Head's par 72 layout is comprised of five Par 5s, five Par 3s and eight Par 4s – stretching to over 7,300 yards from the tips - with a minimum of six tees per hole. Nine holes play along the cliff tops, and all eighteen holes provide stunning ocean views. With the ever-changing sea breezes, the course provides a stern test to the touring pro and the high handicapper alike. One of our recent trip participants had this to say about Old Head. "I've played many great courses including Peeble Beach, but I would choose Old Head as my favorite course in terms of playability and scenic enjoyment. It should be on every golfer's bucket list." We feel the same way and hope you'll take the opportunity to cross it off your bucket list when you join us on our next Ireland trip.

Things to know about golf in Ireland:

Golf Carts

As we've mentioned most golfers do not use golf carts in Ireland. In fact most courses only have a few carts available and those are typically only rented to golfers with physical ailments. However if you provide a doctor's note, at least a month in advance, stating you need one for medical reasons, most courses will permit you to rent a cart. One course, Ballybunion's Old course, does not allow carts for any reason.

Carts are available to anyone(no doctor's note is required) at three of the courses we will visit, Dooks, Waterville and Old Head(restricted to cart path only).

Caddies

Most locals simply carry their own bags, or rent a pull "trolley." Advice I'd give a first timer: Take caddies, but also take note: you must arrange for them in advance. It's not like here in the US where you can just show up and say, "I'd like a caddie." Over there, the caddies don't work for the clubs, they are "free agents", often with other jobs and need some lead time to coordinate their work schedule. The best part of Ireland is its people. Hiring a caddie is a great way to enjoy the course, shoot a better score and learn about the country through a friendly four hours of conversation. Average cost is 50-60 euro per round plus tip. One more thing, more often than not, the course will not have enough caddies on hand the day you play, so the caddy-master will assign one caddy to carry two bags and work for two golfers. When this happens the price is slightly reduced.

SFGA will send an email in January 2020 to all registered participants asking what your preference is for caddies, trolleys or carts where available.

Sightseeing & Touring:

Killarney Town

Killarney is one of Ireland's leading tourist destinations because of the abundance of restaurants, pubs and shopping. Killarney also offers a magnificent lake and mountain scenery in Killarney National Park. It is also situated on the Ring of Kerry scenic drive. Killarney has over 250 years of experience in welcoming guests. With Ireland's finest choice of Accommodation, Dining & Entertainment, Touring & Shopping Options, Sporting Activities galore and many nearby Blue Flag Beaches, - all located in the midst of breathtaking and ever-changing beautiful landscapes, you will not be disappointed. Killarney offers an abundance of beautiful boutiques, jewelry shops, art & photography galleries where you can purchase memorable gems. Downtown Killarney has late night shopping May to October with many stores open 7 days a week. There is also a number of traditional Irish stores stocking everything from Aran Sweaters to Irish Crystal and everything in between. So whether you are looking buy presents to take home or for a great meal, lively traditional Irish music or just a quiet pint, you are sure to find it in this town.

The Ring of Kerry

The Ring of Kerry is considered one of the finest drives in the world. From rugged cliffs to golden beaches, small villages and pastures green to peat bogs and picturesque mountain ranges. This peninsula illustrates all that is beautiful, wonderful and wild in our beloved motherland.

The variety of sites makes this one of the most diverse and interesting drives that one is likely to experience in their travel adventures. Along the Ring of Kerry drive you'll see ancient stone forts to landscapes carved out of rock by the Ice Age, from sparkling lakes to winding mountain passes. We travel large parts of this route to and from Dooks Golf Links and on the ride to/from Waterville Links.

The Cobh Heritage Centre

The C  bh Heritage Centre is a museum located in C  bh, East of Cork, Republic of Ireland. It is attached to C  bh's railway halt. The "Queenstown Experience", located at the centre, has mostly permanent exhibitions of Irish history. It provides information on life in Ireland through the 18th and 19th centuries, the mass emigration, the Great Famine, and on how criminals were transported to Australia for petty crimes. It also has an exhibition on the history of the RMS Titanic, whose last port of call before it sank was C  bh (then Queenstown).

The Old Midleton Distillery – The Jameson Experience

Jameson Irish Whiskey is world renowned and its history can be traced on guided tours through the Irish Whiskey Visitor's Center. The Jameson Experience tour commences with an informative audio-visual presentation. Guests are accompanied by a tour guide and follow the Old Distillery Trail through the various historic and architecturally unique distillery buildings such as - Mills, Malting Houses, Corn Stores, Still-houses, old Offices and atmospheric Warehouses. The visitor can encounter superbly restored machinery and dramatic recreations of many of the steps in Irish whiskey production, going back in time to when farmers would have delivered sacks of locally grown Irish barley by horse and cart to the finished product that is now the world renowned Jameson Irish Whiskey.

King John's Castle

King John's Castle has just re-opened following a €5.7 million revamp which has turned it into a much more attractive, interesting and educational venue than it was, in the heart of Limerick City. You cannot fail to miss the huge stone curtain walls or stout round towers on the approach from Thomond Bridge, incidentally there is free parking for visitors just past the Bishop's Palace on the left. Follow the signs then to the new entrance just left of the visitors centre, a large glass building which now houses a bright, new café, gift shop and toilet facilities. Built in the 13th century by King John's Castle has had a very long and turbulent history, as you can imagine, much of it filled with blood and gore, as you might expect....

The Hunt Museum – Limerick

The Hunt Museum preserves and exhibits the original artifacts gathered, over a life time, by John and Gertrude Hunt and known as the Hunt Collection. The Museum also displays its own collections, as well as visiting exhibitions of Local, National and International significance with the overall aim of maximizing their cultural and educational potential for the people of Limerick and Ireland.

There are artifacts from Greece, Rome, Egypt and the Olmec civilization. There is also an important collection of Irish Prehistoric archaeological material ranging from Mesolithic through to the Iron Age which includes a significant selection of Bronze Age items, most notably a Bronze Age shield and cauldron. Early Christian objects include a collection of monastic bells as well as the unique 9th century Antrim Cross.
